

General Topics :: There's No Disappointment in Heaven*There's No Disappointment in Heaven - posted by ginnyrose (), on: 2007/3/4 12:30

Brothers and Sisters,

I am home from church service this morning, thanks to pneumonia....my DH has grounded me... Anyhow, I was listening to a CD with this song "There's No Disappointment in Heaven" and just thought I would share it with you - click on the link below:

<http://www.cyberhymnal.org/htm/t/h/e/theresno.htm>

When I consider the message to this song, I wonder why I allow the things of life to upset me so? Hope this song will bless you as it has me...

ginnyrose

Re: There's No Disappointment in Heaven - posted by tjservant (), on: 2007/3/4 12:47

Thanks for the post. I really needed it. I love the old hymns.

This line from that song really touched me, "Sometimes I grow homesick for Heaven".

I've never even been there, but at times my heart hurts just the same. I understand why they put it in the song.

Thank you again for the post.

TJ

Re: There's No Disappointment in Heaven - posted by jordanamo, on: 2007/3/4 13:00

What a beautiful hymn...

Heaven's door is just a foot away.

Jordan