time flies.... this is now my 1000 post here on SI :-)

when looking back on it, i have learned much much from the teachings, the sermons and the saints on the forum, Ive posted some things i which i shouldn't have, but all in all i see that Ive gotten a greater awareness about spiritual matters, Ive gotten a bigger fire burning in me, i have a greater desire to battle sin and the flesh and stand fast against the devil, Ive gotten a greater burden for the church and the lost. Id like to believe and think that my time on SI was well spent, sometimes maybe i overspent some time, trying to set a time limit now days, used to somewhat be a "sermonjunkie" since the work I'm at allows one to listen to an mp3 player all day long, so either that or the "worldly" radiostations...

anyway... looking forward to the 2000 mark :-) thank you all, and

God bless you all

Christian

Brother,

I have been so thankful for your contributions to the website forums. Your presence and testimony has been "salt" and "light" to everyone. Pressing onwards and upwards..

Congrats brother, and yes I too have been blessed by your contributions here as well.

Brother, I remember your much earlier posts. How you were young in the Lord, just got saved in all. I could tell you have grown so much in Him! Your hunger for the Lord is much of encouragement to me.

Peace and grace be multiplied to you. Continue to shine the light of Christ here.

I think it would benefit all if we do a search on our posts and look at some of the earlier ones to see if we have "matured" or not.

You can search by author on that link.

Wow, congratulations Brother.

I think it's a good idea to look back to see how far one has come. After all it is about growing and bearing fruit.

I wanted to add a thank you to you and all the others who have encouraged me in my very short time here.

Blessings
