Saints,

Alan Martin shares from a deep burden of seeing brothers yield to murmuring against one another. This is such a plague in the body of Christ. It is unsettling to see so many lives shipwrecked by carnal and critical words. Where is the fear of God like David had, where we pray "Lord put a watch over my mouth, and keep the door of my lips." May the fear of the Lord come upon us all. This message is excellent listen carefully and allow the Lord to work into you a desire to be free from this sin of murmuring.

Blessed, blessed, blessed.... A timely Word when the love of many is waxing cold. Best sermon I've ever heard at SI. Thanks for making it available. God help me.

This message is "much needed" to be heard amongst Christians in our day. Oh that we would find the grace of God to control our unruly passions and carnal desires. God can make us a whole man able to keep himself! May this message spurn you on to growing in the fruit of the Spirit and into conformity with the image of Christ.
