Wow Keith Daniel - posted by Ignitemysoul (), on: 2007/5/28 23:44

Somehow I have never listened to Keith Daniel before! I have seen his name plenty but upto a few days ago never heard him.

Was wondering what church he visits and preaches at when he comes to America?

Also anyone know anything about this Will MacFarlane (sp) that Keith talks about? Can't find anything on him besides what Keith says. What denomination does he belong to? He has been quite a blessing to me already! Praise God!

I post a schedule of his preaching engagements each year when he comes to America. He will be speaking at the sermonindex.net run conference also this year: www.revivalconference.com this is a great video that you have to watch by him:

A Warning To America (video) view / download - Keith Daniel gives a solemn warning to the Church of Jesus Christ in America, that we must pray and get on its knees before it's too late.

Yeah, that video that Greg posted about Keith is heart-breaking. I have a bone to pick with Greg though because the old man was never invited. Maybe because he was a Congregationalist? :-P Ah, if I had any pull or relations with him I would invite him. Yeah, I am talking about brother Owen Roberts. If any of you that read this know him, would you do me and a lot of others a favor just to have him present? Please? He might be old, but I doubt his messages are ever old! Interestingly, it amazes me sometimes- and this I realize I might speak of my carnal mind- there are sermons that I have listened of people that has not impacted me as much as others. As an example I will throw a name a lot of those favor here- Poonen. I find it sometimes hard to listen to him; I can't quite make it clear. But, I am sure also that others find brother Roberts just as hard.

Thank you Greg! Actually this video was the first time I had listened to him! You are right that was worth listening to! When you post his speaking engagements would they be on the link you posted or elsewhere?

Brother,

I did try and contact him and ask him to come to the conference and if he still could come I would allow him to speak at the revival conference: www.revivalconference.com

Keith Daniel's schedule will be posted in the forums and brought up many times it will be hard to miss you if you check back at the site often.

Hi Jon,

Roy Daniel (Keith's son) will be speaking in Rhinelander, WI in June. I don't know how close that is to you but Roy is an anointed young preacher, following in the steps of his godly father.

Here is a thread on the meetings in Wisconsin (there is also a link on the thread to Roy's sermons in SI):

Do pray about Keith Daniel's schedule for this fall as it is the process of being put together right now (my dad handles it).

Blessings,
Joy
