

Articles and Sermons :: Living in the Light of God - spurgeon*Living in the Light of God - spurgeon - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2007/6/30 8:17

Living in the Light of God

Give me the support of God, and I can easily bear the insults of men. Let me lay my head on the chest of Jesus, and I will not fear the interruptions of care and trouble. If my God will forever give me the light of His smile, and a glimpse of His blessing--it is enough. Come on enemies, persecutors, demons, yes, the Devil himself, for "the Lord God is my sun and shield." Gather, you clouds, and surround me, I carry a Sun within me; blow, wind of the frozen north, I have a fire of living coal within me; yes, death, kill me, but I have another life--a life in the light of God's countenance.

-Spurgeon

Re: Living in the Light of God - spurgeon - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2007/6/30 8:19

Do you understand this?

The following is from Spurgeon's sermon, "The Messages of Our Lord's Love" #2060. Mark 16:7

Do you know what communion with Christ is?

Or are you altogether taken up with doctrines about Him, or with ceremonies that concern Him? If so, yours is a poor life.

The joy of the Christian life is to know and to speak with and to dwell with the Lord Jesus.

Do you understand this?

I charge you, do not be satisfied until you come to personal and intimate fellowship with your Lord.

Re: - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2007/6/30 8:19

Our greatest joy!

"Nothing gives the believer so much joy as fellowship with Christ. He has enjoyment as others have in the common mercies of life. He can be glad both in God's gifts and God's works, but in all these separately, and in all of them added together, he does not find such substantial delight as in the matchless person of his Lord Jesus." -Spurgeon

Re: - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2007/6/30 8:24

Alone with Christ

by Spurgeon

Some persons say they cannot bear to spend one hour in quiet solitude; they have nothing to do, nothing to think about. No Christian will ever talk like that, surely; for if I can but give him one word to think of--Christ--let him spell that over forever; let me give him the word Jesus, and only let him try to think it over, and he shall find that an hour is not enough, and that eternity is not half enough time to utter our glorious Savior's praise.

Re: - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2007/6/30 8:25

A liquid petition?

from Spurgeon's sermon, "Jesus Wept"

No prayer will ever prevail with God more surely than a liquid petition, which, being distilled from the heart, trickles from the eye, and waters the cheek. Then is God won when he hears the voice of your weeping. If you want to win in prayer, you must weep in prayer. Let your soul arouse itself to eager desire, and trouble itself to anguish, and then you will prevail. "Jesus wept" to teach us how to baptize our prayers unto God in a wave of heart grief.