

Devotional Thoughts :: If he sees this serpent creeping into his bosom -watson

If he sees this serpent creeping into his bosom -watson - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2007/8/17 0:20

If he sees this serpent creeping into his bosom

(Thomas Watson, "The Upright Man's Character")

"How then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?" Genesis 39:9

A godly man will not allow himself in any known sin. He dares not touch the forbidden fruit.

Every man but has a propensity and inclination to a certain sin. This one master-sin is as dear to him as his right eye! This sin is Satan's citadel, all his strength lies here. The devil can hold a man as fast by this one link, as by a whole chain of vices. The fowler has the bird held fast enough by one wing. Herod did many things, but there was one sin so dear to him, that he would sooner behead the prophet, than behead that sin!

A godly man will not indulge himself in this darling sin. He takes the sacrificing knife of mortification--and runs it through his dearest sin! "I was also upright before Him, and kept myself from my iniquity." Psalm 18:23

An upright heart is not only angry with sin, but hates sin! If he sees this serpent creeping into his bosom, the nearer it is, the more he hates it!