

General Topics :: EU Constitution-What Will America Do?*EU Constitution-What Will America Do?, on: 2007/10/10 7:30

I was wondering if any of you have ever read the EU constitution and do you think America will eventually become a member state before the antichrist comes? According to this constitution if you are not a member state you do not have any rights or privileges and are considered in defiance to the other member states the last time I read it.

New monetary system:

Quote:

"The European Central Bank, together with the national central banks of the Member States whose currency is the euro, which constitute the Eurosystem, shall conduct the monetary policy of the Union."

New Laws:

Quote:

"Member States shall adopt all measures of national law necessary to implement legally binding Union acts."

"Member States shall consult one another within the European Council and the Council on any foreign and security policy issue which is of general interest in order to determine a common approach. Before undertaking any action on the international scene or any commitment which could affect the Union's interests, each Member State shall consult the others within the European Council or the Council. Member States shall ensure, through the convergence of their actions, that the Union is able to assert its interests and values on the international scene. Member States shall show mutual solidarity."

"Member States shall make civilian and military capabilities available to the Union for the implementation of the common security and defence policy, to contribute to the objectives defined by the Council."

Just a few quotes. It's a whole new constitution and it includes member states only. America is not a member state at least not yet.

The next step is they have to agree on a president which will be the antichrist I assume.

http://www.unizar.es/euroconstitucion/Treaties/Treaty_Const.htm

Re: EU Constitution-What Will America Do?, on: 2007/10/10 7:38

These are the member states:

Austria

On 11 May 2005 the Nationalrat (lower house) approved the Constitution. (182 Yes, 1 No)
The Bundesrat has ratified the Constitution on 25.05.2005. (59 Yes, 3 No) more information about the ratification process in Austria

Belgium

On 19.05.05 the Belgian Parliament approved the Constitution. (118 Yes, 18 No, 1 abstention)
The Belgian Senate ratified the Constitution on 28.04.2005. (54 Yes, 9 No, 1 abstention)

more information about the ratification process in Belgium

Bulgaria

On 11.05.05 the Bulgarian Parliament approved the Constitution.

Cyprus

The Cyprus House of Representatives approved the Constitution on 30 June 2005. (30 Yes, 19 No, 1 abstention)

more information about the ratification process in Cyprus

Czech Republic

Ratification will be subject to a referendum. (postponed)

more information about the ratification process in the Czech Republic

Denmark

Ratification will be subject to a referendum. (postponed)

more information about the ratification process in Denmark

Estonia

On 09.05.06 the Estonian Parliament approved the Constitution. (73 Yes, 1 No)

more information about the ratification process in Estonia

Finland

On 5.12.06 the Finland's parliament approved the Constitution. (125 Yes, 39 No),

more information about the ratification process in Finland

France

EU Constitution was rejected in a referendum on 29 May 2005. (results: Yes 45,13% - No 54,87% - Turnout 69,34%)

more information about the ratification process in France

Germany

On 12 May 2005 the German Bundestag approved the Constitution. (568 Yes, 23 No, 2 abstentions).

The German Bundesrat has ratified the Constitution on 27.05.2005. (66 Yes, 3 abstentions).

more information about the ratification process in Germany

Greece

The parliamentary ratification was held on 19 April 2005, the Constitution has been ratified by an overwhelming majority. (268 Yes, 17 No)

more information about the ratification process in Greece

Hungary

The parliamentary ratification was held on 20 December 2004, the Constitution has been ratified by an overwhelming majority. (322 Yes, 12 No, 8 abstentions).

more information about the ratification process in Hungary

Ireland

Ratification will be subject to a referendum. (postponed)

more information about the ratification process in Ireland

Italy

On 25 January 2005 the Italian Chamber of Deputies (436 Yes, 28 No, 5 abstentions) and on 06 April the Italian Senate (217 Yes, 16 No) approved the Constitution.

more information about the ratification process in Italy

Latvia

The parliamentary ratification was held on 2 June 2005. (71 Yes, 5 No, 6 abstentions)

more information about the ratification process in Latvia

Lithuania

The parliamentary ratification was held on 11 November 2004. (84 Yes, 4 No, 3 abstentions)

more information about the ratification process in Lithuania

Luxembourg

Ratification was subject to a non-binding referendum on 10 July 2005, where Luxembourg people voted in favour of the Constitution. (Yes 56,52% - No 43,48%).

more information about the ratification process in Luxembourg

Malta

The parliamentary ratification was held on 06 July 2005. (65 Yes - unanimously)

more information about the ratification process in Malta

Netherlands

EU Constitution was rejected in a non-binding referendum on 1 June (result: Yes 38,4% - No 61,6% - Turnout 62,8%)

more information about the ratification process in the Netherlands

Poland

Ratification will be subject to a referendum. (postponed)

more information about the ratification process in Poland

Portugal

Ratification will be subject to a referendum. (postponed)

more information about the ratification process in Portugal

Rumania

Both Chambers ratified the Constitution on 17 May 2005.

Slovakia

The parliamentary ratification was held on 11 May 2005. (116 Yes, 27 No, 4 abstentions)

more information about the ratification process in Slovakia

Slovenia

The parliamentary ratification was held on 01 February 2005. (79 Yes, 4 No, 7 abstentions)

more information about the ratification process in Slovenia

Spain

Ratification was subject to a non-binding referendum on 20 February 2005, where Spanish people voted in favour of the Constitution. (Yes 76.73% - No 17.24% - Turnout 42.32%)

The Spanish Parliament ratified the Constitution on 28.04.2005. (Yes 311 votes - No 19 votes)

The Spanish Senate ratified the Constitution on 18.05.2005. (Yes 225 votes - No 6 votes)

more information about the ratification process in Spain

Sweden

Ratification will be considered by Parliament (Riksdag). No referendum to be held.

more information about the ratification process in Sweden

United Kingdom

Plans to organise a referendum were suspended.

Re: EU Constitution-What Will America Do?, on: 2007/10/10 8:09

Brother (or sister)

Quote:
-----I was wondering if any of you have ever read the EU constitution and do you think America will eventually become a member state before the antichrist comes?

What a great question. I'll be reading this thread with interest!

Re:, on: 2007/10/10 8:14

Here's another quote:

"Any discrimination based on nationality between workers of the Member States as regards employment, remuneration and other conditions of work and employment shall be prohibited.

3. Workers shall have the right, subject to limitations justified on grounds of public policy, public security or public health:

(a) to accept offers of employment actually made;

(b) to move freely within the territory of Member States for this purpose;

(c) to stay in a Member State for the purpose of employment in accordance with the provisions governing the employment of nationals of that State laid down by law, regulation or administrative action;

(d) to remain in the territory of a Member State after having been employed in that State, subject to conditions which shall be embodied in European regulations adopted by the Commission.

4. This Article shall not apply to employment in the public service."

Re:, on: 2007/10/10 8:48

"The Declaration of Independence" tells us what we should do.

Krispy

Re:, on: 2007/10/10 8:53

"ARTICLE III-162

Any abuse by one or more undertakings of a dominant position within the internal market or in a substantial part of it shall be prohibited as incompatible with the internal market insofar as it may affect trade between Member States.

Such abuse may, in particular, consist in:

(a) directly or indirectly imposing unfair purchase or selling prices or other unfair trading conditions;

(b) limiting production, markets or technical development to the prejudice of consumers;

(c) applying dissimilar conditions to equivalent transactions with other trading parties, thereby placing them at a competitive disadvantage;

(d) making the conclusion of contracts subject to acceptance by the other parties of supplementary obligations which, by their nature or according to commercial usage, have no connection with the subject of such contracts."

-ANOTHER WORDS NO TRADING UNLESS YOUR A MEMBER STATE AND YOU CAN ONLY TRADE WITH MEMBER STATES.

I can see this is where the mark comes in. In order to roam about freely between the member states of which you will work, buy, sell and live you will have to have identification.

Re: EU Constitution-What Will America Do? - posted by MikeH, on: 2007/10/10 9:01

glorytoglory wrote

Quote:

-----The next step is they have to agree on a president which will be the antichrist I assume.

They have had one since 1958; they change every six months. See (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Presidency_of_the_Council_of_the_European_Union) here (as good as any source) for details. Whether any of them have been the antichrist, is not for me to judge.

glorytoglory wrote

Quote:

-----America is not a member state atleast not yet.

I don't see the US applying for membership in the near future :-o It is, afterall, suppose to be the European Union, and the US is not that close, geographically, to Europe. I think the US see it more as a competitor on the world stage, or even a potential enemy, than a club to join. Besides you've got NAFTA, which is an attempt at copying the EU. But perhaps an American would be better to speak to that.

Mike

Re: - posted by MikeH, on: 2007/10/10 9:15

glorytoglory wrote

Quote:

-----I can see this is where the mark comes in. In order to roam about freely between the member states of which you will work, buy, sell and live you will have to have identification.

It's called a passport. Try travelling to any other country without one, and you will find you'll have difficulty. If non-Americans want to work in the US, they will need not only a passport, but a visa also.

glorytoglory wrote

Quote:

-----ANOTHER (sic) WORDS NO TRADING UNLESS YOU ARE A MEMBER STATE AND YOU CAN ONLY TRADE WITH MEMBER STATES.

The section is about market abuse, and is similar to anti-competitive legislation the world over. Trade is not limited to member states; just check the import and export trade figures for any country in Europe.

All you are doing is scaremongering with either wilful ignorance, or deliberate misinformation. There might be a useful debate on the topic somewhere, but this line of discussion, will only entrench already bigoted views that do not engender harmony.

Mike

Re:, on: 2007/10/10 9:18

MikeH Quote:

"They have had one since 1958; they change every six months. See here (as good as any source) for details. Whether any of them have been the antichrist, is not for me to judge."

True but they are looking for one that will bring about unity and a one world order. Only the antichrist will bring this about. They are searching for such a one. Everything is in order they are just waiting for the antichrist. The world is not going to accept this constitution until that happens. Jesus is coming! Praise God! :)

Re: - posted by Tears_of_joy, on: 2007/10/10 9:22

Quote:
-----MikeH wrote:
They have had one since 1958; they change every six months. See here (as good as any source) for details. Whether any of them have been the anticrist, is not for me to judge.

Mike, EU doesn't have president. It has President of the European Commission which is not the same. What is "changing every six months" is the state in which "The Council of the European Union is presided".

EU is still Empire without Emperor.
And according to the new EU constitution that should be in charge very soon, EU should have president. Few months ago there was a meeting between the members of EU on which they had some disagreements on some subjects and finally they made agreement. After the meeting the Chancellor of Germany said that we should expect in 2009 EU to have a president.

Re: EU Constitution-What Will America Do? - posted by Tears_of_joy, on: 2007/10/10 9:38

Few articles about the symbols in EU:

(<http://www.pointsoftruth.com/beastarises.html>) 1
(<http://www.thewatcher.co.uk/europe/europe.htm>) 2
(http://www.albatrus.org/english/living/ourtimes/europe_new_babylon.htm) 3

What the EU is doing is open rebellion against God.

The previous there was a news:

"PARIS - Europe's main humanrights body will vote next week (this is published September 26, 2007) on a resolution opposing the teaching of creationist and intelligent design views in school science classes.

The Council of Europe's Parliamentary Assembly will debate a resolution saying attacks on the theory of evolution are rooted "in forms of religious extremism" and amounted to a dangerous assault on science and human rights.
(<http://www.canada.com/nationalpost/news/world/story.html?id8af486a6-da7a-4517-9da0-1730b8ce241e>) source"

If you say that God has created the earth that will be "religious extremism" and "assault on science and human rights". This is not coming, this is here.

It's interesting that these news about the next president and similar are not widely shared! You can hear just hear and there in the news for few seconds.

Re:, on: 2007/10/10 9:53

Tears_of_Joy Quote:

"Mike, EU doesn't have president. It has President of the European Commission which is not the same. What is "changing every six months" is the state in which "The Council of the European Union is presided".

EU is still Empire without Emperor..."

That's been my understanding as well. Just a man presiding but not necessarily a "president" per say.

Re: EU Constitution-What Will America Do?, on: 2007/10/10 13:26

Tears_of_joy

Quote:
-----It's interesting that these news about the next president and similar are not widely shared! You can hear just hear and there in the news for few seconds.

This is very true. I've noticed how uncritically these things are presented on the network too, as if this is what we voted for!

Those links were most concerning. Nuremburg has been a seat of persecution against the true church for nearly 500 years. What does 'Nuremberg' mean? Should it be some kind of mountain...? I know it has an important river running through it, also.

Re: EU Constitution-What Will America Do?, on: 2007/10/10 13:31

On the point of 'America' joining the EU, it won't look like that politically, but as Catholicism continues to rise as a power in the US, the links with Europe are inevitably strengthened, remembering the Vatican has a seat on the UN (because Vatican City is an independent State); many highly trained - both secular Catholics and 'clergy' (I use the term clergy to signify religious training, loosely) - hold high governmental office in many countries.

Re:, on: 2007/10/10 13:42

They have a constitution, a one world religion, a common currency, the vessels and means for rebuilding the temple, I hear they know where the arc of the covenant is in a cave that they are trying to excavate---I can even show you the we bsight when I get a chance.All they need is permission. They found an ancient map and they think it was from one of the prophets near the cave!

They have everything they need except for the antichrist!

This is so exciting to me! Jesus is coming so soon! Praise God! GET READY!!!! :)

Re: - posted by rookie (), on: 2007/10/12 1:40

The United States is working with Canada and Mexico to bring about the same. The new currency is to be called the Amero.

In Christ
Jeff

Re:, on: 2007/10/12 7:30

Quote:
"The United States is working with Canada and Mexico to bring about the same. The new currency is to be called the Amero."

Yea, I heard about that too. Maybe this is what will eventually cause nations to rise up against nations.

I heard about a NAFTA superhighway awhile back. I wonder if this will ever come about. It looks as though they want to open the borders.Here's a video I saw on Youtube:

General Topics :: EU Constitution-What Will America Do?

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XdxI0zCIV_Y&mode=related&search=

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MBmFrYWPoG8>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=14Li0Wa5rc0&mode=related&search=>