

Revivals And Church History :: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02*CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 4:26

Revival is of no necessity when man is content to live and serve from his own humanity and resources.
Revival becomes an absolute necessity in the light of the purposes of God.
Our prayer must begin at the cross of Christ – where man is reduced and God becomes all.

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 5:39

This world is in desperate need of open, cross-marked hearts, with a willingness to serve God and man.

Save us from the man-pleaser. . .
Save us from the organizer. . .
Bring forth the agonizer. . .

Save us from the complacent, shallow-minded man. . .
Save us from the patterns of the world. . .
Bring forth men who dare stand alone, for the sake of apprehending what is godly. . .

See also – “CANTON: From a prayer chamber”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 6:07

The Cross of Christ helps humility. . .
The Cross, rightly apprehended, brings life – a humble, godly way of living.
May such a work begin among the leadership in our modern Christianity.

See also – “CANTON: From a prayer chamber”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 6:45

The leprous testimony:
Knowing theology, but no inner spiritual reality.
Ability to discuss religious issues, but never bringing life.
Hanging out with the right company, but no ability to serve.
Words without a history with God.
Don’t we need a change? Pray for it. Repent to come alive.

See also – “CANTON: From a prayer chamber”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 7:06

An awesome prospect:
Man, a place where God can dwell. . .

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2007/10/24 7:12

some verses for meditation and prayer:

EDIT: I have put in my own thoughts how these verses spoke to me relating revival and the conference.

Gal 5:25 If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

Gal 5:26 Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

God must be our goal, I think of bro Denny yesterday, Revival is nothing other than God. Can revival happen? is God alive? yes... but our aim must be right, it must be on God am I ready to suffer for him? be his vessel to bring about revival? may he use me in praying and fasting for revival? not just for my own sake, but for God's purposes on earth. Am I ready to be broken and suffer the cost of what it takes to pray?

1Pe 2:21 For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

2Ki 22:8 And Hilkiyah the high priest said unto Shaphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD. And Hilkiyah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.

2Ki 22:9 And Shaphan the scribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and said, Thy servants have gathered the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hand of them that do the work, that have the oversight of the house of the LORD.

2Ki 22:10 And Shaphan the scribe shewed the king, saying, Hilkiyah the priest hath delivered me a book. And Shaphan read it before the king.

2Ki 22:11 And it came to pass, when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his clothes.

2Ki 22:12 And the king commanded Hilkiyah the priest, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Achbor the son of Michaiah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asahiah a servant of the king's, saying,

2Ki 22:13 Go ye, enquire of the LORD for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the words of this book that is found: for great is the wrath of the LORD that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us.

Is my heart as this king's heart was to ward the Word? I think of the Zulu revival and what bro Denny also shared yesterday, maybe it is something wrong with me? maybe it is I who stand in the way of God?

May we be ready to obey the word in smallest detail.

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02 - posted by TerryLee (), on: 2007/10/24 7:26

Having watched the so called prayer concert preceding the first gathering of the revival conference in Canton, I was amazed by the lack of life and fervency in prayer.

It is as if there is a word from the Lord regarding the lack of seasoned intercessors, willing agonizers, a people who offer themselves willingly in the day of Thy power.

There is certainly peace and tranquillity where death is present. The life and peace offered by the Lord is indeed energizing. It produces a sobering of the mind, it refreshes the inner man, it builds confidence and creates a company of committed.

We need to pray for an opening of the inner eyes and ears of the partakers in the conference to be able to become partakers in the Holy Calling unto heavenly duty.

Terry

Re:, on: 2007/10/24 7:34

What we are interested here in the prayer chamber are words, sanctified thinking brought forth during prayer regarding revival and the growth of the inner man for the sake of establishing heavenly realities.

Quoting the bible without aim is not very productive.

Use the Word of God, but tell us what you are using it for. . .

Walkington

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 7:37

Wake up to the ordinances of Heaven Â– As in Heaven, so among us. . .

See also Â“CANTON: From a prayer chamberÂ”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 8:11

The point of Revival Â– the point of weakness. . .

The point of Revival Â– the point of weakness exposed. . .

The point of Revival Â– the point of weakness and sin reacted to and repented of. . .

See also Â“CANTON: From a prayer chamberÂ”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 9:12

Revival is a must where our love is reduced to sentimental affinity, reduced to an attitude which, among other things, bravely dismiss the absoluteness of the Cross including its irrevocability in regards to the eradicating of sin and the process of making saints.

Sinners cannot sit at ease in Zion.

Complacency thrives where the judgment of God is abandoned in Christian thinking.

See also Â“CANTON: From a prayer chamberÂ”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 9:20

The Gospel begins with warning, imparts fear in the face of judgment, demands repentance before it delivers a message of hope and salvation, before it imparts life.

Pray for men who dare to be honest in their preaching of the Gospel.

Save us from the gross insensitivity among pastors in regards to man's true need – a revealing of the corrupt heart and the way to deliverance.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 9:39

Revival:

An acknowledgment of the Throne.

A yielding to the absolute lordship of Jesus Christ.

A handing over of life and goods to the purposes of the Kingdom.

A search for soundness, calibre and maturing equalling the on high calling.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 9:58

A drastic crying out for a disrupting of those destructive meeting routines. . .

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 10:48

Our meeting routines dismiss a most vital point in the process toward a drawing near to the Lord: The corporate waiting for and crying out unto the Lord.

Pastors must learn to give room for corporate silence and the searching of the face of God in fellowship.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: - posted by sharonrose (), on: 2007/10/24 10:49

Hello... new to forum... but have been on sermonindex many times. Wanted to come to the Revival Conference, but didn't get to due to care of my elderly mother. Watching it on the webcast ... terrific. Am praying with all of you for Genuine Revival ... We desperately need a fresh move of God in our personal and corporate lives. Prayer, brokenness and repentance will fan the flame of revival ... At 59, I have come to realize that brokenness may have to come again and again ... oh the longsuffering and faithfulness of our God.

Ps 51:17

17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit;

a broken and contrite heart,

O God, you will not despise.

NIV

Blessings to all. sharonrose

Quote:

Walkington wrote:

The Gospel begins with warning, imparts fear in the face of judgment, demands repentance before it delivers a message of hope and salvation, before it imparts life.

Pray for men who dare to be honest in their preaching of the Gospel.

Save us from the gross insensitivity among pastors in regards to man's true need – a revealing of the corrupt heart and the way to deliverance.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 11:18

Revival demands an uncompromising, self-sacrificial stance.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re:, on: 2007/10/24 11:49

Revival renounces the therapeutic gospel.

The therapeutic gospel puts to sleep, imparts complacency and comforts to death.

Pursue the fullness of Christ within, allow for a display of mercy and genuine benevolence.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: - posted by Nellie, on: 2007/10/24 12:08

Can anyone tell me how to get the Revival on Webcast?

Does anyone know if DVD's or CD's will be available of this Revival?

Thank-you.

God Bless all.

Nellie

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 13:00

Bring us into a place of fellowship and purity, enable a vessel to carry the glory.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 13:18

Develop and practice discernment — to divide between what is Christ and that which pretends to be. . .

See also —“CANTON: From a prayer chamber—”

Re:, on: 2007/10/24 13:33

Thank you so much for this ministry from your prayer chamber. We will take this opportunity to coordinate in the Holy Spirit.

I understand that you are praying for many hours pr day during the conference.

We were just listening to Ralph Sutera. Awesome. . .

Hanna

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 13:44

Revival holds a returning to origins, a turning back to original intentions and purposes. The new, that which is truly alive and full of life, is that which is properly anchored in the old, in what God has stated as absolutes. The Father brings newness of life by taking His people back to beginnings. It is no small thing, it is indeed a tremendous task to recover and settle in the purposes of God.

Man is not sufficient for this. Human enthusiasm and effort will not level with the standards of Heaven. God is the originator of the retracing of the paths of old, of an ascent to the holy hill of Zion. —“A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.—” Jer 17:12.

See also —“CANTON: From a prayer chamber—”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 13:57

Revival holds a specific and definitive authentication of the Church. A returning to the eternal purposes of God holds an ever growing correspondence to that which is to be found in Christ. Maturity equals Christlikeness. The fruits of the presence of God in His Church are signs and wonders which cannot be spoken against. Fidelity, faithfulness, perseverance, veracity, godliness and humility are all aspects of the priestly ministry of reconciliation — these things are from God, signs of His presence and wondrous operations of the Law of the Spirit of Life; 2 Cor 5:18, Rom 8:1-2.

See also —“CANTON: From a prayer chamber—”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 14:16

One of those pregnant quotes:

If you do not bend, you will break. . .

See also —“CANTON: From a prayer chamber—”

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 14:44

Waiting brings us forward.

Pray for a priestly attitude, a priestly fellowship who dares to minimize their activity for the sake of the coming of the Lord

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 15:55

Life:

We cannot master it. . .

We might as well give it away.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 16:02

Something to consider:

God longs to make himself known.

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 17:03

Revival brings opposition –

Opposition against Christ dwelling in man.

Opposition against the possibility of incarnation

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 17:20

Life belongs to the altar

The ones who dare to leave it there are the survivors of the Earth.

The ones who try to capture it and master it will break it.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 17:29

Quality, otherness, plumb line and a solid and sensible testimony by the indwelling Holy Spirit are words and concepts describing the content of the authentication of the Church. The very heart of the reviving influence is something which cannot be explained in human terms, it is an element brought in into human existence which has its origin in a realm beyond the created world. One small sentence summarises: "As in Heaven, so on Earth" – a prayer to be prayed, a measuring rod to be applied, a state and order of being to be pursued.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 18:08

There is no nice cross, but the cross teaches us to ask forgiveness.
The not-so-nice cross brings life through demanding repentance.

See also "CANTON: From a prayer chamber"

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 18:25

The necessity of correspondence, the call for veracity, the common loss of dignity and majesty and the absence of the glory of God are major incitements opening man's heart and the content of the speaking into his conscience driving him to prayer for revival. "Thou son of man, show the House to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities and let them measure the pattern." Eze 43:10.

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 18:52

The revival to be expected in the near future is one which focuses the House of the Lord and the Throne to be established among the people of God. "You are being built together into a dwelling of God in the Spirit." Ef 2:22. This building will by its very presence tell about Heaven in a manner which only Heaven itself can speak. The Spirit of Truth, the Spirit of Holiness is the Spirit of prophecy testifying to the work and presence of Jesus Christ among His people, in His people. The purpose of revival is the formation of a people for His praise in the very knowledge of the holy. Isa 43:21, Prov 9:10.

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 19:46

The revival which by necessity lies ahead, which is prepared and made ready for God's Zion, for the assembly of the hungry, for the company of the committed, for the solemn gathering of peacemakers, this revival will produce a call to the people of God to represent fullness, the attaining to the measure and stature which belongs to the fullness of Christ, the growing up in all aspects unto Him. The revival which by necessity lies ahead will present the possibility for a renewal of minds and hearts, a putting on of the new self which in the likeness of God has been created in righteousness and holiness of the truth. Its keyword ought to be correspondence, a sacrificial identification with the fundamental purposes of God, a state of being and a mode of operation in which – only in which – the glory of God may be expected to be seen and experienced.

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/24 22:48

The Old Covenant = you do, I do

The New Covenant = you believe, I do

~ Carter Conlon

Re: - posted by markhamJ, on: 2007/10/25 0:18

The kingdom of God is within--quote by Jesus Christ

Revival is an ever present reality-- Carter Conlon via webcast.

Walkington, your doctrine is really shakey and very unscriptural. You must exercise fleshly repentance which doesn't really produce an inward change, I doubt that you have the power of God to heal the sick or raise the dead or pray a sinner into heaven without speaking a single word, as a matter of fact, I'll bet you can't really recall when the last time was that you had a prayer answered by God that was impossible to be answered by any other means but by God.

Re: - posted by markhamJ, on: 2007/10/25 0:28

Excuse me, I have been watching some on the web but mostly listening since the video was to choppy. I've followed your prayer postings and find your use of the word more like that of witchcraft than anything, here is what you said: (Use the Word of God, but tell us what you are using it for.) We don't use the word of God like a credit card to get what we want or manipulate others through soulless incantations from God's wholly Bible.

Your prayers are soulless, not of God's spirit and from the word of God I can show you if you'd like?.

Re:, on: 2007/10/25 0:57

Dorcas, I saw on your other post that Carter preached "Love one another" - wish I could have heard it. Thanks for any notes.

Annie

Re: - posted by TerryLee (), on: 2007/10/25 9:28

There can be no revival when Mr. Amen and Mr. Wet-eye are not found in the audience.
C.G. Finney

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/25 9:46

HE_Reigns asked for

Quote:

-----notes

-----

Annie, greetings. He passed over that point fairly quickly.

Earlier though, Don Courville the moderator said he didn't know how the meetings were going to be reproduced, yet (eg DVD) but... In other words, there was a strong implication that Greg will be working on an answer to that question, which is yet to be announced.

Possibly you will be able to download on to CD or DVD from a broadband outlet at a library - whether to watch, or listen only. Audio only is already available for download and most of the talking has been reasonably short - each less than an hour.

If you look at the iPod option in the Revival Conference links, I think it will tell you how many minutes. By tomorrow, they may all go on a three or four 80 minute CDs for you.

Re:, on: 2007/10/25 10:10

Hello markhamJ,

I wonder if you are new to SI, because you appear to be unaware of one of our most dearly held conventions here...? That rather than directing our comments in a questioning way at the spiritual character of another poster, we look more closely at the topic they are addressing, and if possible, by a clearer exposition, show them a better way to understand it.

The scripture has an example of how this can be done:

Acts 18

24 And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto the m, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

In this thread, the topic is prayer, and what we are looking to God to work in us.

If I may add,

Quote:
-----I doubt that you have the power of God to heal the sick or raise the dead
-----
is not a universal standard by which to judge whether a person knows the Lord, nor to know whether he is being obedient to his calling in God.

If these are part of your giftings, that's wonderful. :-) Praise God!

Re:, on: 2007/10/25 10:36

Quote:
-----I've followed your prayer postings and find your use of the word more like that of witchcraft than anything, here is what u said: (Use the Word of God, but tell us what you are using it for.) We don't use the word of God like a credit card to get what we want or manipulate others through soulful incantations from God's wholly bible.
-----

If I may speak for the majority of believers that use this site. We are a people that want God to move in extraordinary ways, and to see souls saved in mass droves. Each called out one that uses this site has such a reverence for the word of God that they are careful how they "use" the word of God. We have been down the road with the "name and claim it" Calvinists, but we have found that there was no life there. We also have been where the legalists were and the liberals, but we found death in both camps. Now we have settled into where we are clinging to the cross of Christ and taking the faith that has been given to us and have given our lives over to the one that we can trust in bringing us into that rest.

Even though some of us may be still children and we will quote scriptures over and over again thinking that it will somehow get into our spirit. It should not be considered witchcraft, rather a growing process. I used to be so much like this, but I have grown in the LORD and that method has dropped off me just as the Apostle Paul once said, "they perish with the using". Of course he was speaking about "taste not, touch not, handle not", I think we can apply it to this as well.

Nay, we are careful to even open our bibles today, because the mirror of God's word is pointing back at us if we ever use it to satisfy self. Yes, you'll find the odd arrogant fellow believer that dares our forum and speaks words like that of a "Blab and Grabbed it" type spirit who abuses the word of God to satisfy his lustful desires.

But then again, there is nothing wrong in quoting scriptures over and over again. It all depends on our motive. I may be deep in prayer even intercessory prayer and the only words that keep flowing from lips are, "Oh LORD... in wrath remember mercy" Hab3:2

Our motive must be right.

Thank you Mark for your admonition, it was a good reminder to keep us all in check. Praise the LORD!

Re: CANTON: From a prayer chamber, Day 02, on: 2007/10/25 17:31

Church – a setting in which brokenness has opened for Life to minister.

Re: - posted by MarkOne, on: 2007/11/2 5:03

I think that these statements regarding prayer and revival are worth looking and praying through over and over again. I dare to add a quote from Ravenhill's "Sodom had no Bible":

"I am convinced that in the current welter of confusion, theological as well as moral, there are still many asking, 'Is there any word from the Lord?' They are not interested, preacher-friend, in your theological juggling act, your elastic vocabulary, your re-hashing of some recent political event or the near doom of the stock-market. They want the word of Redemption."

Re: - posted by awakenwithin (), on: 2007/11/8 12:56

I think that these statements regarding prayer and revival are worth looking and praying through over and over again. I dare to add a quote from Ravenhill's "Sodom had no Bible":

I fully agree I have printed them out and look and prayed over them. What a blessing they have been for me. Why? they are a everyday brother, speaking from his heart of what God is showing him. This is beautiful to me. This brother, prayer and speaks. What a wonderful joy to see the heart of one brother. I can see that this brother is a Man of God. A man of prayer. A Man to be honored and respected. He may not be a Pastor I don't care he is kind and loving and has a heart that is after God. That is something to honor. He is real and open with others. Don't miss my brother, Here a great man of God. To be thanked. Thank you walkington

In Christ
Charlene