If anyone was wondering where I got the phrase 'satisfied in Him alone'- this is where: :-)

Satisfied in Him Alone

We've got to get to the point in our lives where we actually believe that God and His desires for us are truly the things that are going to make us the happiest, give us the most peace and satisfy our souls deeply.

We talk about this and we know in our minds that it's true, but somehow these beliefs- they don't make their way into our everyday lives. If they did- wouldn't we be different, wouldn't we act different, wouldn't we talk different?

I don't think it's because we don't want to be happy, or we try to sabotage our own lives. Maybe we just don't REALLY trust God.

We've got to decide that no matter what the cost, we want to be satisfied in God alone- in Him alone.

Aren't you tired of reading your bible because you feel you have to?
I want to WANT to love Jesus. I want to long to spend time with Him. I want to get up in the morning and can't wait to be with Him.

Anything in my life that is more important, more exciting and more valuable to me than God- that thing is an idol. I don't want it to be like that. I want to be like John Piper said in "The Pleasures Of God" :
"God is most glorified in us when we are most satisfied in Him."

I want God to be glorified so I want to see what I can do to be most satisfied in Him.
