Yo Bro,

From what i heard on a news program the other day Iran's playing a technicality between an outright "atomic weapons program" and making (weapons grade) enriched uranium as a by-product under the guise of wanting to build their nuclear plant to use nuclear energy to bring power (in more ways than one) to it's people ... The man said that once enough uranium is enriched the mechanical part of making a bomb and putting it on a rocket is the simple part ...

So hard to know an exact truth on the world stage when everyone is lying, but i think we all know the strongmen of Islam are all chomping at the bit to get the bomb, Iraq and now Iran ...

And as far as U.S. Intelligence is concerned by now i'd think most Americans would consider that an oxymoron when it comes to their knowing anything for sure about anything that's happening in the Arab and/or Middle Eastern Muslim world ... Is it "intelligence", "convenient propaganda", a mix of both? ... Only God knows for sure ...
