

Scriptures and Doctrine :: Vice President Al Gore Spreading the Gospel!!

Vice President Al Gore Spreading the Gospel!!, on: 2008/1/8 2:07

Vice President Al Gore claims to be the Father of the internet. With that in mind and all the websites reaching places with audio and text sermons more now than ever before that have never heard the gospel. Did God use the former Vice President to spread the gospel? You think the former Vice President would delight in that thought?

Re: Vice President Al Gore Spreading the Gospel!!, on: 2008/1/8 8:20

Al Gore is spreading something, alright... but I dont think it's the gospel. lol

Using your logic (and I know you're being humorous) we could also say that Al Gore is responsible for the explosion of internet porn, identity theft, etc etc...

Krispy

Re: Vice President Al Gore Spreading the Gospel!! - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2008/1/8 8:22

Quote:
-----Vice Prsident Al Gore claims to be the Father of the internet. With that in mind and all the websites reaching places with audio and text sermons more now than ever before that have never heard the gospel. Did God use the former Vice President to spread the gospel? You think the former Vice President would delight in that thought?

Sorry to break it to you but Al Gore had nothing to do with the invention of the internet it was actually one of his dumbest statements he made while campaigning. He was ridiculed and jeered at for that comment for a long time. Also it is very true that there the internet is being used for depravity, idleness and many other sins over the benefit of spreading the gospel. I see false gospels spreading on the internet faster then the true gospel.

But indeed thank God for ministries that are using the internet to spread the truth of God.

Re:, on: 2008/1/8 9:51

Quote:

sermonindex wrote:

Quote:
-----Vice Prsident Al Gore claims to be the Father of the internet. With that in mind and all the websites reaching places with audio and text sermons more now than ever before that have never heard the gospel. Did God use the former Vice President to spread the gospel? You think the former Vice President would delight in that thought?

Sorry to break it to you but Al Gore had nothing to do with the invention of the internet it was actually one of his dumbest statements he made while campaigning. He was ridiculed and jeered at for that comment for a long time. Also it is very true that there the internet is being used for depravity, idleness and many other sins over the benefit of spreading the gospel. I see false gospels spreading on the internet faster then the true gospel.

But indeed thank God for ministries that are using the internet to spread the truth of God.

moe_mac

I was making a point and trying to be humorous. I only wish everyone knew that Al Gore wasn't the Father of internet. Al is spreading something alright, but I think it is far from the gospel.