

Miracles that follow the plow :: prayer for street preaching and personal witnessing*prayer for street preaching and personal witnessing - posted by andres (), on: 2008/4/4 22:41

men and women,

i was wondering if you could pray for me, and two other brothers who are going out to witness and possible street preaching in San Antonio Tex, Sat. the 5th before the final 4 game starts, i ask for your prayers that, God would bless this time and His gospel would be preached with boldness

love
andy

Re: prayer for street preaching and personal witnessing, on: 2008/4/4 22:46

I'll be praying for ya'll.

Praise God that you're going out to spread the Gospel!

Let us know how it goes.

Re: prayer for street preaching and personal witnessing - posted by tjservant (), on: 2008/4/4 22:48

Praying.

Re: - posted by andres (), on: 2008/4/4 22:51

thank you, thanks alot for all who prayed and are praying

love
andy

Re: - posted by HeartSong, on: 2008/4/4 23:41

I will be praying also - what time does the game start?

Re: - posted by repentcanada, on: 2008/4/5 1:51

God bless your faithfulness, we should all be so bold

Re: prayer for street preaching and personal witnessing - posted by ChrisJD (), on: 2008/4/5 4:47

Much grace and love be with you Andres.

How beautiful are the feet of them bring good news.

Chris

Re: - posted by andres (), on: 2008/4/8 21:02

well it was a great time on sat. we got to san antonio about 11 am, leaving brownsville around 5.30 am... and off the bat we ran into a couple. the guy was a catholic who tried to kill himself a couple of days earlier and the girl was a backslide n christian( her words). we preached the gospel to them. we told the guy who was catholic the danger in trusting in anything other than christ and urged the girl to repent and turn away from her sin, they girl wept and the guy was shocked about what we were doing.. after we finished we prayed with with them and then they thanked us and hugged us..

As we wandered around the down town area looking to get to the arena of the basketball games we came across a park where the homeless would hang out. we begin to preach the gospel to them, but recieved much resistance, One man challenged our Christianity saying that Christians refused to help them out. so then we asked them what they needed we got a list of items that the homeless needed such as soap, underwear, socks, shoes, and other products and took off with a guide to lead to all the stores and back to the park. About an 1 and 30 mins later we came back with a loa

Miracles that follow the plow :: prayer for street preaching and personal witnessing

d of goods. and they were astonished that we came back. we preach about that the things we are giving them are temporal but the things that Christ would give them are eternal. so we preached the gospel some fell under conviction. thank you brothers and sisters for your prayers God also fixed many things in my heart on this trip, thank you love andy

Re: - posted by PreachParsly (), on: 2008/4/9 9:49

Quote:

-----
andres wrote:

well it was a great time on sat. we got to san antonio about 11 am, leaving brownsville around 5.30 am... and off the bat we ran into a couple. the guy was a catholic who tried to kill himself a couple of days earlier and the girl was a backsliden christian( her words). we preached the gospel to them. we told the guy who was catholic the danger in trusting in anything other then christ and urged the girl to repent and turn away from her sin, they girl wept and the guy was shocked about what we were doing.. after we finished we prayed with with them and then they thanked us and hugged us..

As we wanderd around the down town area looking to get to the arena of the basketball games we came across a park where the homeless would hang out. we begin to preach the gospel to them , but recieved much resistance, One man challenged our Christianity saying that Christians refused to help them out. so then we asked them what they needed we got a list of items that the homeless needed such as soap, underwear, socks, shoes, and other products and took off with a guide to lead to all the stores and back to the park. About an 1 and 30 mins later we came back with a load of goods. and they were astonished that we came back. we preach about that the things we are giving them are temporal but the things that Christ would give them are eternal. so we preached the gospel some fell under conviction. thank you brothers and sisters for your prayers God also fixed many things in my heart on this trip, thank you love andy

-----
That's great brother Andy. I didn't see the original post until now. It's encouraging to see more Christians "taking it to the streets."