Greetings,

Being interracially married (27 yrs) and in ministry (25 yrs) to a black woman has taught me many things about the body of Christ or what calls itself the "body of Christ." But an answer my wife gave to a co-worker about 25 yrs ago is the best answer i have ever heard on this issue.

The question was " what do you think God thinks of your marraige?" My wife pointed out that Miriam spoke ill of Moses' wife in Numbers 12, and Miriam ended up leprous.

God is not concerned about the color of our skin, but the condition of our hearts, are they washed in "His Blood"

In 1Peter 2:8-10 we are one race. Not many races, but only one race. How God looks at it is all that matters.

If we have a problem with this issue, we have a problem with God.

In His service

GWB
