

SermonIndex Support :: Possible to PLAY without saving?

Possible to PLAY without saving? - posted by IsaiahSix3, on: 2008/7/28 5:03

Hi... it seems like I used to be able to just click on the sermons and PLAY them without having to SAVE them to my computer. Is that still possible? I do like to save some of them but I listen to a lot of sermons and don't really want to save them all! Thanks!

It would depend how you have your computer setup and what is your default media player. If you download quicktime player as your default player then it should be able to play on the internet page instead of downloading when you just "left" click on the sermon titles.

Just get sermon index messages on itunes, its free and doesn't require much space.
