just really struck in this moment at how much bigger a miracle it is (well, at least in my teeny human mind it seems that way) for someone to even be saved nowadays with all the confusion out there of who Christ is, what church means, who the Father is, etc. yet He does. the fact that anyone could be redeemed at all is such a huge miracle of phenomenal proportions...and then to be rescued out of all this....
wow...God is SO powerful and SO kind.

evidence that regeneration is really a work of the Holy Spirit.
