New Gospel website: HeDied.net - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2009/5/14 0:34

Saints,

Here is a new gospel website which you can share with unbelievers. www.hedied.net ! It has a 11 minute video by Paul Washer preaching on the cross of Jesus Christ. Put links to this on your blogs, websites, share it on facebook and twitter . May The Lamb that was slain receive the reward of his suffering.

Note: I am putting a higher quality video version up soon to replace the one that is there.

Â“Oh that men would think upon eternity and seek the Lord.Â”

A few know that our first Conference Prayer Call began with Psalm 24 which Paul speaks of here. The opening by Gareth Evans may even be posted somewhere on SI. What a blessing to be in fellowship prayer at this very time (as we remember His resurrection and Pentecost) for revival, specifically for His Glorious presence in Barnsdall. Â“Oh that men would think upon eternity and seek the LordÂ”: This prepares the way.

Saints,

link to this site on your blogs. I am working on images of different sites for people to link to the site with. Personally I am making up simple "biblical" tracts to give to people with the website on it. I will post it here also for others to see.

"may the lamb that was slain receive the reward of His sufferings!"

Amen. I put it on my Facebook.

Saints,

I have updated the website to make the video abit more prominent!

I am also working on a business card idea for people to order 1000's very cheaply as gospel tracts to get people to go to the website.

<http://www.hedied.net> keep spreading the word.
