Saints,

I am excited to announce 3 new revival conferences are upcoming later this year. These things have come together in God's will and providence I believe. All the information and registration information will be available soon.

Indianapolis, IN, USA*Oct. 13-15, 2009

Keith Daniel, Bill Gothard, etc

Limerick, Ireland*Nov. 13-14, 2009

Paul Washer, David Legge, etc

Loughor, Wales*Nov. 17-19, 2009

Paul Washer, Yorrie Richards, etc

Saints,

keep praying for all the details to work out as God desires! In the next few days to a week all things should be somewhat firm.

How how we need true revival in our countries. To wake a slumbering Church and to save a dying world.

Wonderful first specific prayer with thanksgiving! Followed by emails to dear ones brought to mind as I considered specifics.

We ask concerning your sons and Oh for the work of your hands ....Isa.45:11

Amen!

I've discovered Loughor is just beyond Swansea, only a few miles from the M4. Excellent location!

Seems like November is going to be a significant month for the Island of Great Britain and Ireland. With the major outreach in Scotland in November and the conferences in Ireland and Wales, God is about to shake those Isles, praise His Holy name that He yet strives with them, praise Him for His grace and mercy.....Frank

Re: - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2009/6/20 9:48

for those who might fly to these islands in november, what would be the cheapest way from getting from london to limerick?

Re: 3 upcoming Revival Conferences.., on: 2009/6/20 10:19

I haven't looked at airfares from any carrier, but do consider flying straight to Dublin, the capital of Ireland (Eire), (which is a member of the EU, and trades with the Euro).

Re: - posted by hmmhmm (), on: 2009/6/20 10:30

ryanair does fly to dublin so for those who can fly with them its very cheap if you book now, or wait until dates are firm, i could find a two way ticket for less then 50 euros.

Brothers and Sisters,

I would wait a few days until everything is 100% firm and I have released the registration pages before booking flights.

I am making plans to bring my entire staff and leadership to the Indianapolis Conference. I can't wait!!!

Saints,

please be in prayer the the final details will work out for these conferences. I am trusting God is in them all.

Hi hmmhmm and others,

It looks as if you pay only a boarding fee and taxes to fly from Dublin to Bristol, which is the nearest Ryanair destination to Wales. WOW!

And any food you eat, of course! Remember to travel light.

it is the same for all destinations if booked some months ahead, i pay same price from stockholm to dublin, only taxes and boarding fees. Dont know prices for other countries but some have cheaper tax and fees. From sweden the price was below 50 euros. Anyway, as Greg said everyone should wait for the confirmation of dates, If God allows it would be a blessing to come.

Hi,

I agree with Greg about not booking yet, but, in recommending Dublin, because I've seen it as a destination for US carriers, I've neglected - and I do most sincerely apologise - to notice Shannon, another of Ryanair's destinations, is right beside Limerick, (much closer than Dublin).

:-D

Yes to my knowledge Shannon might be one of the best places to fly in with ryan air and somehow get a bus from Shannon to Limerick. Ryanair is one of the cheapest airlines in the UK.
