"Oh God, strip me of all that hinders the filling of thy Holy Spirit."

-Oswald J. Smith

"I believe the greatest thing I need is the baptism of the Holy Spirit. If only I had that, I know God would use me."

-Oswald J. Smith

"This last month I have felt the burden of a city. Its great sorrow has pressed in on my soul. Its vice and sin have bowed me upon my knees in tears. I cried and cried to God to have mercy on the poor fallen girls; and the burden is crushing."

-Oswald J. Smith

three-fold commitment at 23 years of age:

1. I will think no thought, speak no word and do no deed unworthy of a follower of Jesus Christ.
2. I will give my life for service in any prt of the world, and in any capacity God wills that I should labour.
3. I will endeavour to do God's will from moment to moment, as He reveals it to me.

"I have been reading the life of George Whitefield and it has set my soul aflame. His zeal, his prayer life, his preaching-how he inspires me! I now rise at 6:30 each morning and spend an hour in prayer and Bible study, and again an hour at night. And yet how ashamed I feel as I read of the fervor of Whitefield."

-Oswald J. Smith

"The greatest need of Christians. The greatest need of the church, has not changed. More than ever today we need the unction of the Holy Spirit. When the Holy Spirit first came on the apostles, there was boldness, power, conviction and conversion. The people came gladly; they continued steadfastly; they praised God. When the Holy Spirit takes control in a church, there will be blessing and unity and power. Souls will be saved. The Gospel will go out. There will be a spiritual work. Perennial revival is only possible where there is continuous brokenness of heart."

-Oswald J. Smith
