

SermonIndex Support :: What happened to the search engine?

What happened to the search engine? - posted by Greenlea, on: 2009/12/14 12:08

Usually when I have a question I can look it up on the search engine without posting a new thread, but now I can't seem to find it. Anyone know anything? It was really helpful.

Hi,

just type in "sermonindex search engine" in google and you get a site that will search all of the sermonindex.net site.

we are working on a better solution. you can also browse the threads of the forums.
