In Germany We celebrate Christmas on the 24th . We had a family reunion with my brother and sisters family who are not believers. I started singing some Christmas songs to them. In a break between 2 songs someone played a record with some frivolous X-rated songs. The song was so foul that I had to leave the room. Outside I pleaded with God to help me not to vent my disapproval but that He would do a miracle in response. After a while I returned to the room and found that the record player had broken down and produced some awful howling noise so they had to switch off the player.

I told them that I had prayed that God would tamper with the record player which HE did!

I got my chance to tell the Christmas story to them, involving their children. I went on from there and quickly move to the cross and resurrection, still keeping their attention.

Today I learned that God answers simple prayers when we seek to defend His honour.

Oh praise the Lord! He is in the business of answering prayers - especially when we give Him the glory. :) Praying that the message got through . . .
