Site Moderator Moving to British Columbia, Canada - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2010/1/27 10:24

Saints,

On arrival back from my 5 month trip abroad in Germany, UK, India and Nepal. God put in my hear the priority when I get back to canada is to be involved in a strong local church assembly and also to find a place for a home-base as it were for sermonindex. After prayer, counsel and consideration I feel the Lord is leading me to move to British Columbia for this covering.

I do appreciate your prayers for tomorrow I am leaving to drive through the USA and please pray for no problems at the border and that they would let me through just fine.

I appreciate the prayers and support from saints for this ministry and am excited at all the changes happening and that will be happening in the near future.

It's actually the "right" coast to be on :)

Do pray saints, I am leaving tomorrow morning. Please pray specifically for my border crossing that there would be no problems.

We were blessed to have Greg in our home over the last couple of days, and at our church fellowship yesterday.

He left Colorado early this morning driving through a snowstorm. Please pray for him especially over the next few days as he continues to head to B.C., Canada.
