Never give sacrificially
Into a ministry that doesn't live sacrificially!

How will we fare
When on judgment day we stare
At the widows of martyrs
With whom we'd rarely share
While we and our preachers
Rarely missed a meal
And they often knew hunger:
Hunger that's real?

Never give sacrificially
Into a ministry that doesn't live sacrificially!

How will we fare
When on judgment day we stare
At men who took the gospel
Where others wouldn't dare
While we and our preachers
Drove in fancy cars?
We wouldn't buy them bicycles
Their feet had many scars.

Never give sacrificially
Into a ministry that doesn't live sacrificially!

How will we fare
When on judgment day we stare
At those who didn't hear
Because we didn't share?
We kept our preachers happy
With America's standard of living.
Without the gospel, the poor were dying.
To the rich we kept on giving.
