On a separate thread, Shadyg posted a link to a sermon by David Platt called Desperate for the Spirit. Go to the Brook Hills Church site and find it under weekly teachings. I hope the Sermon Index moderators will listen and post it for all to listen to. It is powerful. I listened to it and immediately took it down to the church to play for the pastor and worship leader. I literally left them after a while because they were still on their knees before God in tears calling out to him. Please Listen.

Thank you for sharing. Nothing but agreement. Revival preaching.

Agreed, great message and encouraging because it comes from a younger generation. I read the first chapter of the book (Radical) on Amazon. It seems very readable and encouraging believers towards a radical lifestyle, perhaps in the vein of Road to Reality by KP Yohannan (which I cannot recommend enough: life changing).

Note: the watch and the listen messages are not the same. Both are powerful.

I agree flame, it is nice to see someone from my generation crying out for revival. I often feel like I grow tentacles in conversations with a lot of people my age. Half of them almost do not even know what the word means...(I don't say that superciliously, just observationally.)

Desperate for his Spirit. Amen and Amen. I was blessed to hear this. Thank you for sharing.

I keep on remembering his words, How bad do you want the Glory of God? Amen.
