Please pray for my son. He is really sick tonight, high fever and difficult breathing. Going to the doctor. Please pray for him as the Lord gives you leading, his name is Tyler.

Thank you

I pray that your son, Tyler will be healed completely.

MaryJane,

How is your son by now? Did the doc say he has a virus? I had it, too, last week and recovered quite nicely, PTL! This virus is everywhere here in our community.

How is your mother? Has she come to the LORD?

Love,
ginnyrose

Touch Tyler, Father, in Jesus Name, and give Maryjane your Strength.

Thank you to those who prayed for my son. This morning he is doing a little better. He is breathing more easily and his temperature is down now to 100 which is much better than the 103.1 it was last night. He is been having breathing treatments and we are now waiting to see his own doctor this morning very soon here. Please continue to pray for him and my other two boys who are at home beginning to show symptoms as well.

Ginnyrose: thank you for asking after my mom. She is home from the hospital now waiting on some tests results from the biopsy they did on her liver. Sadly she still clings to her Catholic traditions through all of this but I continue to pray and I will keep sharing with her each opportunity the Lord gives me to.
