Jeremiah chapter 10 has some interesting things to say about christmas trees

An idol is whatever wins our affection and trust other than God.

They are vanity, the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: The LORD of hosts is his name.

for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the axe.

They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers,...blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

If you want to debate the validity of Christmas, start another thread, and wait till it gets locked. This thread is not for that Untobabes. If you do not feel like giving to those less fortunate than yourself, don't.

My point in idolatry not Santa, the tree, or whatever.

I had to fight an idol this morning that had no physical form whatsoever.

No, I am not debating Christmas. That is up to every body conscience. However, we have to question where our affections lie. That is all.

Blessings, and Merry Christmas.

I would like to keep everyone back to the focus of this thread. God could care less if you didn't have a christmas tree in your home. If you are coveting this Christmas then you are worse than a person who has santa in his home!

I would rather have freedoms with incorporating some of the good of christmas celebrations and decorations with a full heart of giving as God did when he gave his only son.

Please keep the discussion towards this website I am featuring and also the message in the videos on the site:

I think that supporting this ministry is an excellent thing. Every time my wife opens a letter from GFA she starts reading it to me, and before the end of the letter she is weeping tears of joy. She can almost never finish.

Please forgive my hastiness for assuming you were making this anti-Christmas. I should have asked if that is what you were doing.
