Praise God! I wish there would be Filipino (tagalog) or other local dialects versions of that. Even though most Filipino Christians do understand English, There's still a lot of problem among the youths that have been saved from the depress area here, Maybe because of the lack of education many cannot avail these type of great spiritual foods. That sermon had saved and revived many young filipino Christians here, that's why I do pray that ministries like sermonindex and others could really reach even to those who are not yet reached by the internet in the remote areas here.
