

News and Current Events :: End of Days in May? Christian group spreads word

End of Days in May? Christian group spreads word - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2011/1/4 16:03

If there had been time, Marie Exley would have liked to start a family. Instead, the 32-year-old Army veteran has less than six months left, which she'll spend spreading a stark warning: Judgment Day is almost here.

Exley is part of a movement of Christians loosely organized by radio broadcasts and websites, independent of churches and convinced by their reading of the Bible that the end of the world will begin May 21, 2011.

To get the word out, they're using billboards and bus stop benches, traveling caravans of RVs and volunteers passing out pamphlets on street corners. Cities from Bridgeport, Conn., to Little Rock, Ark., now have billboards with the ominous message, and mission groups are traveling through Latin America and Africa to spread the news outside the U.S. ...

read more: http://www.breitbart.com/article.php?id=D9KGU9C00&show_article=1

Re: End of Days in May? Christian group spreads word - posted by iceman9, on: 2011/1/4 18:46

Looks like another disciple of Harold Camping.

Harold Camping predicted that the rapture was going to occur in 1994. Obviously didn't happen... yet he has more followers now than ever.

Camping also teaches that the Holy Spirit left the Church in 1994 and no-one has been saved since 1988 & the devil has been running all churches in the world since.

I wouldn't want to be in the shoes of someone who says the devil runs the Lord's bride...

Re: End of Days in May? Christian group spreads word, on: 2011/1/4 19:37

Oh Brother! Another Ho Ho Hoax.

Re: End of Days in May? Christian group spreads word - posted by ginnyrose (), on: 2011/1/4 22:39

Oh.

SIGH.

Yawnnn....

Re: - posted by Miccah (), on: 2011/1/5 0:57

Pure foolishness. In Matthew 24, the Lord says that even Jesus doesn't know the time that he will come back. I guess that his group has a one-up on Jesus?

Foolishness.

Re: End of Days in May? Christian group spreads word - posted by Lysa (), on: 2011/1/5 7:00

Personally, I think the Lord allows these "crazy" people to see how we respond to them. Do we love them and their souls enough to pray for them that they might "receive the love of the truth?"

1 Peter 1.22 Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

1Peter 3:8 Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

Does anyone pray for these people?

Lisa

Re: - posted by fromtheold (), on: 2011/1/5 9:41

Well hopefully it does not end bad.

Re: - posted by RevCrabtree, on: 2011/1/5 9:48

Do you?

Re: End of Days in May? Christian group spreads word - posted by bobmcd510 (), on: 2011/1/5 13:05

It's a pity that thousands or millions of cult members are more willing to work hard and die for a lie than I am to labor for the truth of God. Lord help me to take a lesson from these heathen. Among their tons of dirt they have an ounce of golden wisdom in there. But it's just as our Lord said,

Luke 16:8 "the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light."

Re: - posted by Lysa (), on: 2011/1/5 14:05

Quote:

-----by RevCrabtree

Do you?

I did not before the Lord showed me that but yes, now I do.

God bless you,

Lisa