SermonIndex.net Home Page Re-design - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2011/3/1 21:01

Brothers and Sisters,

I wanted to thank all of you that prayed and gave some great suggestions, some of them we implemented right away and others are still possibly going to be put in place. I am very happy with how all the changes turned out thus far and feel the first big stage of the re-design, new logo, new featured banner and other features are working and in place well.

Glory be to God for the help with the designing of the artwork and positioning of it etc. Without Him we can't do anything!

Thank you for your continued prayers for this ministry as we seek to run the website and the resources offered for the glory of God and in the best efficient way possible with the little means possible.
