

News and Current Events :: North Korea detains U.S. citizen for spreading Christianity*North Korea detains U.S. citizen for spreading Christianity - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2011/4/16 4:43

North Korea confirmed Thursday that it is preparing to indict an American who is accused of proselytizing.

Jun Young-Su has been held since November, the North's official Korean Central News Agency said.

The report did not state what crime he was accused of committing, but South Korean media have reported that an American was detained for spreading Christianity. He is the latest U.S. citizen to be detained in the reclusive communist state in recent years.

read more: <http://www.washingtontimes.com/news/2011/apr/14/north-korea-detains-us-citizen-for-spreading-chris/>

Re: North Korea detains U.S. citizen for spreading Christianity, on: 2011/4/17 1:14

We must pray for this brother. N. Korea is considered the worst persecutors of Christians by human rights groups. Over 40,000 of our brothers and sisters are in N Korean death camps. The average life span of an evangelist in N Korea is 3 months. We must keep these brothers and sisters in prayer.