Brothers and Sisters,

Welcome to the free Application for the iPhone and iPod Touch for SermonIndex. Download this free app to access some of the best content from SermonIndex.net. You can view sermons by speaker, see current blog entries, and share the sermons with others via facebook and twitter. The app allows you to also download each of the sermons for offline listening. We will be constantly adding new speakers and content to the app over time.

Fantastic! I have already emailed this link to family and friends who use iPhone and iPod devices.

Is there any chance that a similar app will be released for other phones?

I have a Windows phone, and typically use Opera browser to view SermonIndex. It would be great to have an app to sort through the resources available.

Thanks, Greg! I pray that this app will bring these vital messages to anyone who has an ear to hear!

Thanks brother!

I am still working on adding messages to the website and speakers. And will also be making some special categories for sermons. Please pray for me as over the next few weeks I devote more attention to this to do it well and diligently as to the Lord.

Saints,

We are still working on updating this app better with a better icon image, updated screenshots, and adding more key speakers from the website including more Ravenhill sermons
