So powerful. Especially so to me was the part where he says that love, security, peace, comfort, and on and on...aren't what it's about AT ALL. But that it's about longing instead to be like Jesus. So that when God says, Seek ye me, our hearts cry out, Thy face, O Lord, will I seek!! I need to renew my sights to that end, instead of all the other things that grab for my heart. What a man of God. Praise be to God!
