Pray for South Asia's Missing and Exploited Children:

What happens in the Western world when a child is missing? Frantic family members do all they can to find that boy or girl. The police are called and national alerts are issued. But that's not how it works in South Asia. Parents of runaway and missing children generally receive little help from local authorities. Imagine trying--on your own--to find your runaway or kidnapped child in a country like India, with a population of more than a billion people.

We have the privilege of praying for India's runaway, missing, kidnapped and abandoned children. As you pray for these boys and girls in harm's way, consider praying as though it were a child in your own life who was in one of these tragic situations.

Thank you for praying for these children and their families.

Yours for the lost of Asia,
The Gospel for Asia Prayer Team
