Looks like they post their audio sources on line. I will look forward to listening to it when they post it. Otherwise may the Lord give you His words.

I am not sure if they will record my sermon. But I'm bringing my own digital recorder as it is :-). Thank you for the prayers.

Thank you brethren for your prayers. The church (New Harvest Church) should have a copy of the sermon for download next week on their podcast.

I've uploaded a copy of the message available on my website: <http://www.iamadisciple.com/sermons> - "Into Thy Hands"

Be blessed.

p.s. Sorry for the less than stellar audio quality and larger download size. I had some technical difficulties. The podcast should be better. :-)

Arrrrgg!!! I did not see this post until now! I missed it!

Wish I had known about this, I would have been there.

That's ok Krispy. You can listen to the sermon online just the same. :-) It would have been nice to meet you in the flesh though. The pastor said he will have me back again in the future, so, hopefully it will happen again sometime soon. God really blessed.
