

News and Current Events :: Megachurch pastor Rob Bell seeks life beyond the pulpit*Megachurch pastor Rob Bell seeks life beyond the pulpit - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2011/9/24 11:02

Megachurch pastor Rob Bell seeks life beyond the pulpit

For pastors with ambitions to reach huge audiences, there's often no better platform than the megachurch, which has given rise to powerhouse media empires from T.D. Jakes to Max Lucado to Joel Osteen and many others.

On Thursday (Sept. 22), up-and-coming pastor Rob Bell announced he's leaving Mars Hill Bible Church in Grandville, Mich. in December. Bell's best-selling book, "Love Wins," raised more than a few eyebrows with the premise that hell doesn't include eternal torment. Now he's moving on.

"Our founding pastor, Rob Bell, has decided to leave Mars Hill in order to devote his full energy to sharing the message of God's love with a broader audience," the church said in a statement. ...

read more: <http://www.usatoday.com/news/religion/story/2011-09-23/Megachurch-Rob-Bell/50531528/1>

Re: Megachurch pastor Rob Bell seeks life beyond the pulpit, on: 2011/9/24 14:16

Good thing he left the pulpit. Now all he has left to do is repent of his current books and stop writing new ones.

I wonder "what sort of love" and to "what audience" he has in mind?

Re: , on: 2011/9/26 12:58

So long Rob... you should have never been in the pulpit in the first place!

Krispy

Re: Megachurch pastor Rob Bell seeks life beyond the pulpit - posted by swornservant, on: 2011/9/26 15:11

This guy is misguided, misled, and has stumbled and fallen into the errors of universalism!!
Don't be fooled by those who claim GOD will eventually save all!!

Re: , on: 2011/9/26 15:48

I hope he repents and that the Lord saves him... because if he does not he will stand before God and answer for all the people he is leading to hell.

Krispy