

News and Current Events :: Police ban Bible from Christian caf  

Police ban Bible from Christian caf   - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2011/9/26 23:01

Police in Lancashire have told the owner of a Christian caf   to stop displaying Bible texts on a video screen, because it breaches public order laws.

Officers attended the Salt & Light Coffee House on Layton Road, Blackpool, on Monday 19 September, following a complaint about "insulting" and "homophobic" material.

The caf  's owner, Mr Jamie Murray, says the officers did not specify which Bible texts had caused the offence.

read more: <http://www.christian.org.uk/news/video-police-ban-bible-from-christian-cafe/>

Re: Police ban Bible from Christian caf   - posted by Trekker, on: 2011/9/28 0:59

Unbelievable. It boggles the mind how people can be so shockingly unreasonable and irrational. I guess they don't have any freedom of speech in Europe any more huh? I hope they just keep on posting those Bible verses!