

Revivals And Church History :: Church History

Church History - posted by mcage69, on: 2004/12/31 22:48

I am so very blessed that I found this site and this forum. I am extremely interested in two important subjects concerning Christianity, the Bible, and prophetic events: Church History and Typology. I hope that a forum on Typology will be added sometimes, as I believe the subject reveals much of the way the New Testament fulfills the old.

As for Church History, it fascinates me greatly. I am very much looking forward to listening to this entire series by Parkyns. It is the best series I have heard yet on the subject, and I find myself and my "own" theology very much agreeing with him!

I am a Bible teacher at my church. I want to find ways to spur an interest in church history.