In its latest economic outlook released on Monday, the OECD said the level of uncertainty surrounding the U.S. economy was high and risks were heavily tilted to the downside.

"Negative spillovers from the turmoil in European markets could be greater than expected and have the potential to derail the recovery in activity and renew fears among financially fragile households and businesses," it said.

So far, analysts and some Federal Reserve officials have played down concerns that the euro zone debt crisis, which has roiled financial markets, will hit the broader economy hard. ...

Oh boy... more good news!

Were it not for Jesus I would just give up. If we have our treasures in this world we will lose them. Might as well give them up on your own.

People are looking for a computer chip to be the mark... I think it will be a Sharpie.

...or it would be Antichrist's Law in your hand and in your mind... instead of the Law of Christ:

"Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them..."
Deuteronomy 11:16

"Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes." Deuteronomy 11:18

"Beware the mark"

Do you honestly think that a dictator will care about your choice if you refuse to take the forbidden mark?

Look at the Jews during world war two, they didn't have a choice about being tattooed by the Germans, they just did it.

The only way for one not to take it is to go into hiding, live in the underground (literally) and hide in caves etc..

The mark of the Beast is metaphorical for the law of Antichrist.

Compare spiritual things with spiritual: Just as the Law of God was to be in the forehead and in the hand in Deuteronomy, we are required by the Antichrist usurper to "believe" and "obey" his wicked commandments instead.

The "mark" is not some amoral barcode, or anything else indifferent. Rather, it is a real, moral test of loyalty.

"Choose you this day, who you will serve..." Whoever you "serve" is the one you obey, and you cannot serve two masters...

All who "worship the beast" and therefore "take his mark", will be damned.

All who worship the Son, and therefore take his mark, will be saved.

Re: A United Europe????, on: 2011/11/29 18:13

I just saw a headline where EU finance ministers are considering proposals that were hitherto considered taboo. Since the euro is in danger of collapse proposals are being put forth that range from nations surrendering great chunks of their budgets to a central authority to a United States of Europe. Concerns are that individual nations would lose their sovereignty.

Saints I am not reading this off some right wing conspiracy website. But this is from my morning newspaper which is part of Roppert Murdoch's group.

But the above headline does make one pause and make one wonder if we are heading toward one big global union. More than ever we see the economy of the world linked globally. So if economic union comes there will generally follow political union.

I need not say what the implications of this are. We are possibly looking at a rise of the one world government with the rise of the antichrist. I know many in this forum reject this notion. But as I pray for the persecuted believers in other lands I am seeing a line up of nations that are coming against Christians and Israel.

At this point I think Hal Lindsey and even Jack Van Impey may have it right when they say the return of Christ is eminent in our lifetime.

God grant that we have discernment to watch and pray.

Hi, From an Irish perspective.

Our country's independence like America was hard won but now we have lost our economic sovereignty.

What's really happening to my understanding is Germany doesn't want to underwrite the weaker countries unless they get to control their budgets. The ECB or the European equivalent of the Fed don't want to act without the OK of the Germans. The Germans have political problems at home with this.

You have to get the feeling that this is being orchestrated to a certain extent to bring about a United States of Europe of some kind (at least a stepping stone)

It was amazing this evening a commentator on TV said these chilling words, "we need a strong global leader that can...." Over this side of the pond we laugh at your democracy but we are being run by a huge unelected group in Brussels that are blind either deliberately or otherwise.

I just want to say this however to my friends on SermonIndex is that I am convinced by Scripture and by the inspiration of God personally that the Anti Christ whoever he is will have an a God inspired opposition that will confront him and thwart his plans and ambitions until God says otherwise. I say this to comfort anyone that is genuinely worried about the subject, Hi staff...

I had no idea you were Irish... What a shame and how much disagreement there is here at times, simply because we cannot see one another...

I was speaking with an English cousin of mine last week, (over here in America for a few days), and he shocked me with what he knew... I had brought up the "United States of Europe" agenda, (curious to hear his "European" opinion), and he already knew to tell me that it was the Nazis after World War II that had begun the push for it. (The Bilderberg Group, The Treaty of Rome, et. al...)

Of course they want to centralize their grip on power, dear Brother. I agree with you, for what else do men with evil hearts want after they already have all the money they can print?

Our country was founded as a Constitutional Republic, not a democracy, which our Founders rightly understood to be "mob-rule." That we have descended into "democracy" is as tragic as it is laughable, for such a descent has always in the past spelled doom to freedom. Would to God that the Ron Paul movement succeed at such a time as this...

Yes, the spirit of Antichrist has been resisted since it first appeared, and we will continue to do so until the end, for this is our unchanging mandate from the Lord Himself.

Be well dear Brother,
Doug

Hi Die to live,

I do think we are in the thick of it over here as regards "political intrigue".

The closest the USA comes to this is the relationship some of your politicians have with the UN.

The dictatorial rules and regulations coming from the EU are unreal. I heard a person say that the countries that are in western Europe and are in NATO and the Eurozone will band together.

Europe is despite all its political correctness and waffle is very anti Jewish/Israel. Europe becomes very anti USA when America supports Israel. It's all the same rhetoric that Nazis were saying in the 1930s about the Jews.

History repeating itself, this is no "crisis". Saints, what you are witnessing are the machinations of the god of this age, the anti christ, and his followers, those men doomed to the pit of fire, for the sin of denying Messiah and His Kingdom, denying God's Omnipotence, meaning that He is a Jealous God, and will NOT TOLERATE IDOLATORS, and these idolators are wicked sin soaked, sin loving, money loving men who have crafted a 21st century golden calf, and THEY WORSHIP on it!!!!

they have even pulled many helpless and harrassed sinners to BUT INTO this pattern of ease and consumption, who believe the lies of the devil. most of the official mouthpieces you hear today are but minions and hirelings of this antichrist.

yes, we are instructed to pay respect to authority, but WOE to anyone who bow a knee to baal, and this is baal, this satan, this is the antichrist, and it's all planned by the beast and the devil.

no, this is no crisis, like a tornado, coming upon the saints unannounced, this is scripted, it is planned, it is the end of days. We have been warned by the Lord Jesus Christ in some of His Final Words to the disciples. He told us what to do...we have the roadmap as God the Holy Ghost revealed to John on the Isle of Patmos, Revelations.

i have much more to say, but my heart is grieved to the core, yet the gift of knowing that i know that i know, THAT GOD IS SOVEREIGN and to God go the Glory, and the Praise and the Amen. everything else is but a smokescreen of the devil. God will have His Victory, that i know.

According to David Wilkerson book the vision, he mentions there that the United States will recover, but faith in the American dollar will cease to exist. Recovery will be sometime down the road, I have heard some say it may take 10 years. He goes on to say that currency stability will shift to Europe. The present system has to fall. This present system is outdated and old, it needs another way of accumulating wealth and doing business in this technological age. How that will be implemented will be interesting to see.
