Praise the Lord! On December 1, 2011, charges were dropped against 338 Indian Christians! For three long years these innocent Christians suffered at the hands of the Indian government. Charges were leveled at the Christians in 2008 for reacting against a wave of church attacks by militant Hindu groups. Although the falsely accused Christians are relieved, they still want the "real perpetrators" found and brought to justice. The Indian government has yet to bring the perpetrators to justice, but they have promised to restore the 83 churches that were attacked. Full Story
