

SermonIndex Support :: QuestionQuestion - posted by Creation7, on: 2011/12/10 12:17

I haven't been on in a bit, and I just noticed that the sort by oldest/newest button is not there anymore. Is page #1 of a thread read the oldest or newest post on the thread?

Thanks!

Brother,

we removed all these features for a few reasons. Namely it will make it much better for search engines to capture the "1" page of the forums instead of the same page many different ways.

We also feel the best conventional way that almost all forums are on the internet are oldest first and the newest last.

We are working in the admin to ensure this is the way all people will view the forums. thanks for your patience and understanding.
