

General Topics :: Where's Rahman?*Where's Rahman? - posted by Spitfire, on: 2005/1/19 6:21

Has anyone seen or heard from Rahman? He hasn't logged in since December 30th. I hope he is ok. Does anyone know what's up? Dian.

Re: Where's Rahman? - posted by crsschk (), on: 2005/1/19 8:44

Indeed.

And Mrs. Fred, same time as well.

Lars.

Fortunately the Lord knows.

Jam 5:16 Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

Re: Where's Rahman? - posted by Jimm (), on: 2005/1/19 11:07

Friends

Rahman and I had been corresponding for some time and he informed me that he would not be accessing the internet for a few weeks. He said he may have access again on the 10th but, perhaps whatever it was took a little longer than expected. Let us keep him as well as Mrs. Fred in our prayers.

James

Re: America's Precarious Economy ... - posted by Rahman, on: 2005/2/16 14:25

Greetings Mishpachah! ... Mishpachah is Hebrew for "Family" ... Hi there sister Dian and brothers Mike and James ...

I've been very quiet since the end of last year because Holy Spirit keeps impressing on me Ezek. 3: 26 ...

"And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious house" ...

So needless to say I've been eerily quiet, but in this quiet down time I can tell you that Holy Spirit isn't being quiet within me, for as per Jer. 33:3 (my life's verse) He's telling me a whole bunch of what I knew not regarding how America's idol of Economy is destroyed ... Americans, including American Christianity, had no idea the consequences of our either taking, or our allowing God to be taken out of our everyday governance back in the 60's ... It was a horrible, horrible mistake that has taken almost 50 years of greedy, satanically inspired moral and ethical deregulations to come to what it's about to manifest itself as now ... Holy Spirit is teaching me an awful lot about money, finance, and safer havens for wealth, which is a real mystery to me for I'm far from wealthy ... I keep sensing in my spirit that where He's taking me now has something to do with provisionary stewardship, my being used of Him as a trusted conduit of material blessing to His Commission, Church and Charity in the economic severity soon to be upon us ... I don't really know as of yet why He has me where I am now, but I do know that when He tells me to share I'll be sharing for Holy Spirit also is impressing Ezek. 3:27 on me ...

"But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house".

Shortly after 9/11 Holy Spirit said to me that its meaning was that God has judged the idol of our Economy and that it is as completely destroyed as the World Trade Centers ... That He judged our idol of our Military and that it is crippled ... B ut that He has in essence spared our Government because we in essence treat it the same way that we treat Him, either we don't believe in it at all, or we only seek it if we're in some type of dire circumstance, and will curse it if it doesn't meet up to our expectations ... Now i totally understand why the world can't understand this, but i was at a loss why the house of God, especially the priests/preachers of God didn't/doesn't see this ... As of late, in light of what Holy Spirit is showing/teaching me now, i'd been diligently seeking our Lord as to why i seem to be the only one in my imediate circle of fellow saints to see/understand/forsee the signs of impending chastisement that seem so blatantly screaming out for spiritual recognition ... Then Holy Spirit impressed Ezek.12: 2 on me ...

"Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house" ...

This in a nutshell, from this sobering discussion between a group of (except for the Asian man) seemingly secular non believing economist/financial advisors/investors, is how and why America's idol of Economy is about to implode under our top heavy crushing weight of unGodly greed debt ... For any who chooses to "hear", listen as to why American's, both sinner and Christian, have refused to wake up from the opiate of greed, and still refuses to do so ... God's about to give us "cold turkey" saints ... i pray that you're ready! ...

AHEAD OF THE TREND

<http://www.netcastdaily.com/broadcast/fsn2005-0122-2.mp3>

I'm not posting these for pro or con discussion ad-nauseum, for i'm not concerened with whether you believe it or not that America is headed for Economic chastisement ... i'm just strewing seeds here, and if they find fertile ground in you may Holy Spirit shine His enlightenment, His water, and make it grow ...

Riverside Conversations (2/2003):

If you haven't seen and heard it, you're in for a thought-provoking experience. Jim Rogers and his dinner guests Marc Faber, and Daniel Yergin explore global markets today and into the future ...

Click on ... Video: Riverside Conversations ... upper right hand side of web page ... It starts in german but the conversation is in english ...

<http://www.vpro.nl/programma/tegenlicht/afleveringen/10443446/>

Deflationary Depression" - 3 INTERVIEWS

<http://www.financialsense.com/Experts/2003/Prechter.htm>

"Infectious Greed: How Deceit and Risk Corrupted the Financial Markets"

<http://www.financialsense.com/Experts/2003/Partnoy.htm>

SOCIAL SECURITY

<http://www.financialsense.com/Experts/2004/Stormtracks.html>

John Rubino, Author

"Strategies for the End of the Housing Bubble

<http://www.financialsense.com/Experts/2004/Rubino.html>

THE DANGER OF DERIVATIVES (2nd PART)

<http://www.financialsense.com/Experts/2004/Leeb.html>

PS - i'm not frequenting this site at all as much as i did IN 2004 ... i'm again actively pursuing the publication of "The Call ed" (which i believe is key in my future)

https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/newbb/viewtopic.php?topic_id=2289&forum=41&16

... and am way to busy in the present direction Holy Spirit has me in ... But rest assured that when He tells me to proclaim again, i'll be posting what i hear Holy Spirit telling me to say ... in the meanwhile you can always e-mail me at reuben19027@yahoo.com ...

i love you all in the one and only perfect love that is God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit! ... Please remember me in prayer, as i do some of you individually, and all SI collectively ... His will be done! ... Whatever it is, His perfect will be done! ... In Jesus name ... Amen

Re: America's Precarious Economy ... - posted by rookie (), on: 2005/2/16 14:56

A prophetic voice in the wilderness.

God Bless
Jeff

Re: Brother! - posted by crsschk (), on: 2005/2/16 15:41

Ahh....

That, is the collective sound of relief escaping.
We missed you brother! Haven't even read your post yet, just so good to 'see' you again.

Remember those old ad's about "It's two o'clock in the morning. Do you know where your daughter is?"

While your parents are up worrying about you... :-x Glad you finally phoned home! ;-)

Take forth the precious from the vile... - posted by Jimm (), on: 2005/2/16 18:48

Brother Rahman!

Welcome back!...we MISSED :-o you! Concerning the things of which you have spoken in your post you may want to correspond with Farai (IRONMAN). The Spirit has given him a similar message!... I will get him to write to you and give you the details.

Glad to have you back big brother!

Your son in Christ

James

PS:

Only one life, it shall soon be passed,
Only what's done for God will last,
And when I am dying, how glad I shall be
If the lamp of my life has been burned up for Thee

Re: Where's Rahman? - posted by Spitfire, on: 2005/2/17 6:47

Rahman! Hello Dear Friend. We missed you. Welcome back. You are loved! Talk to you soon. Love, Dian.

Re: - posted by rookie (), on: 2005/2/18 10:47

I've listened to all the audio that Br. Rahman suggested. The overwhelming thought that comes to mind after listening to these interviews, can be summed up, by one of the observations that one of these men made.

He said, that the leaders in this country seem unwilling to take the steps necessary to correct the wrongs. Government steals the money from the Social Security Trust fund. Shareholders of corporations do not want the CEO's to report realistic data on earnings. Homebuyers do not understand or care about the debt that they are taking on. Wall Street people do not want you to know the depth of the problems that exist in our current financial system. All believe that things will remain the same.

One man said that to sum up all of what I mentioned, it basically can be labeled as immoral blindness. He said every world power that has existed throughout time has destroyed its own currency because the people did not want to do the right things. The results of such behavior brings wars and desolations. The leaders are blind and the masses are blind.

And we all drink from the wine of fornication with the Great Harlot, the kings and the sea of men.

In Christ
Jeff

Re: - posted by rookie (), on: 2005/2/18 10:55

Another thought, the men speaking in Rahman's list spoke of the possibility of hyper-inflation. They spoke of the lies that the government puts out every month on inflation. The truth is that inflation is growing much faster than what they are telling the public. This is a portion of an inflation report put out this morning.

"The PPI report was clearly disappointing and a bit of a warning signal that inflationary pressures could rise in the month ahead," said Michael Sheldon, chief market strategist, at Spencer Clarke LLC.

Core inflation for wholesale goods, which excludes volatile food and energy prices, jumped 0.8 percent in January compared with forecasts of a 0.2 percent increase. This was the fastest rate of increase in six years.

The overall producer price index increased 0.3 percent as expected."

If core inflation prices were up .8% how then does the price index only go up .3%?

In Christ
Jeff

Re: - posted by IRONMAN (), on: 2005/2/18 12:12

Bro Rahman

I've heard rumblings before of our economy and how it lives because of credit and that at some point this money must appear and if it doesn't we're in trouble. A friend of mine told me about this a couple of years back and all this is being confirmed. I'm kinda concerned about the tax cuts that have proposed. It seems that the people on the top are aware of the impending economic implosion so they are setting themselves up to be in good (better than the rest of us) shape when it happens. When that happens they will really have consolidated their hold on power. Any thoughts anyone?

Re: - posted by rookie (), on: 2005/2/22 15:42

To continue with the thoughts that Rahman shared I read this on the BBC network.

Dollar drops on reserves concerns

Recent rebounds in the dollar have proved to be short lived. The US dollar has dropped against major currencies on concerns that central banks may cut the amount of dollars they hold in their foreign reserves.

Comments by South Korea's central bank at the end of last week have sparked the recent round of dollar declines.

South Korea, which has about $200bn in foreign reserves, said it plans instead to boost holdings of currencies such as the Australian and Canadian dollar.

Analysts reckon that other nations may follow suit and now ditch the dollar.

At 1930 GMT, one euro was worth $1.325, up 1.46% on the day.

The British pound had added 0.76% to reach $1.91, while the dollar had fallen by 1.25% against the Japanese yen to trade at 104.2 yen.

Change in mood

At the start of the year, the US currency, which had lost 7% against the euro in the final three months of 2004 and had fallen to record lows, staged something of a recovery.

The comments from Korea come at a time when sentiment towards the dollar was already softening.

Analysts, however, pointed to the dollar's inability recently to extend that rally despite positive economic and corporate data, and highlighted the fact that many of the US's economic problems had not disappeared.

The focus once again has been on the country's massive trade and budget deficits, with predictions of more dollar weakness to come.

"The comments from Korea came at a time when sentiment towards the dollar was already softening," said Ian Gunner, a trader at Mellon Financial.

On Tuesday, traders in Asia said that both South Korea and Taiwan had withdrawn their bids to buy dollars at the start of the session.

Mansoor Mohi-Uddin, chief currency strategist at UBS, said that there was a sentiment in the market that "central banks from Asia and the Middle East are buying euros".

A report last month already showed that the dollar was losing its allure as a currency that offered rock-steady returns and stability.

Compiled by Central Banking Publications and sponsored by the UK's Royal Bank of Scotland, the survey found 39 nations out of 65 questioned were increasing their euro holdings, with 29 cutting back on the US dollar.

In Christ
Jeff

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2005/2/22 19:22

Rahman,

I hope you are keeping well and being increased from faith to faith and glory to glory into the image of Him who has called us. I hope to hear from you more you are missed brother.

Re: - posted by Rahman, on: 2005/2/23 11:47

Yo brother Greg ...

Yes i'm fine, thank you! ... And yes by His grace and mercy the ole boy is still keepin on, keepin on! ... i pray all is well with your soul, and God's blessing in your studies!

Sister Dian,

Ditto on the "agape/philos"!

Brother Ironman,

May our Lord continue to reveal what He has for you to know and do ... Then do it! ... Amen

Brother Jeff,

i feel like we're somehow God's bookends, one on the West coast, one on the East coast ... i posted some additional info over on your thread DAYS ARE EVIL:
https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/newbb/viewtopic.php?viewmode=flat&order=1&topic_id=1987&forum=35&post_id=&refresh=Go

The peace and blessings of our Lord Jesus Christ to all!!!