

Devotional Thoughts :: Prayer for Brian Longs son

Prayer for Brian Longs son, on: 2012/1/25 6:31

Hi saints,

Please remember dear brother Brian Long's son and family in prayer. His leukemia has returned. His name is Luke. This is a precious family. Many of the saints on SI know brother Brian who has been a speaker at SI conferences and indeed held one of the conferences at his church. I know that Brian and Martha want to see the Lord glorified in this situation .

thank you brother frank for letting us know, we will be praying diligently for them and for luke. this is so heartbreaking to hear, but we know that God is on the throne. give the Longs our love and we pray the Father surrounds them with His peace, gives the doctors wisdom and holds Luke up in His strength during this time. wendy & gabriel

Will surely pray for them. Brian is one of the most humble pastors I've heard. His prayers are one of a man that's been before the throne in all reverence and brokenness.
I pray The LORD honor this Brother's faithful heart and pour out His mercy on Martha and bring Glory to Himself through Luke.
Lift Martha in a special way, LORD GOD, with protection against the slurs of the enemy.
Give Brother Brian the stamina he needs.
Peace, trust and healing for this home - in Christ Jesus' Holy Name.

Have prayed....does anyone have the link to the sermon he preached not too long ago where he was talking about his son's cancer in relation to God giving His only Son? Seems it wasn't too many months back that it was posted here on SI somewhere....Lord have mercy on this family....

Re: , on: 2012/1/25 23:06

Hi Mamma, that sermon should be in the archives, he preached it at the Dallas conference, very powerful bro Frank mama,

I am not sure if that is what you are looking for but he talks about his son Luke a lot in this one.

That's the one untobabes.....bro Frank

Re: , on: 2012/2/13 20:13

Update.....

Brian's son is in hospital and is on his fourth day of very very aggressive chemo. There will be a break after the fifth day and then, depending upon response, be a second round of milder chemo, or more aggressive chemo depending on the outcome. After that he will be ready for the transplant and they will do that at St Jude's in Memphis, TN. The transplant will come from Luke's younger sister this time, the last time it was his older sister and that transplant failed after a year or so. Luke is 15 and has a strong faith.....bro Frank

HE will be in my earnest prayers tonight. Praying even as I type. How so many need so much help in this world...

Praying.

The needs are so great in this hour, so overwhelming!

"Oh that our God would the Heavens rend,
So we cry with the prophet of old,
Let the mountains melt and the hills dissolve,
And make Your Name known unto men..."

(From "When Heaven Touches Earth" by George Warnock)

It seems like nothing less than this will meet the needs in this hour!
