I found this great book on Revival "Top 5 Classics on Revival" - includes Bartleman's account and a number of others: <http://amzn.to/5revivalclassics>

You might also want to check out the original Azusa Street Papers: <http://amzn.to/AzusaPapers>
They contain a ton of eye-witness reports from Azusa.

Blessings!

thank you Wayne. back in 2002, when i came to apprehend Messiah Jesus, this was the first non-canonical book of the Faith i read, and it blessed me, and helped shaped me in Jesus. Since then i've read it many a time, and dearly love ole Frank B. He was a wild man, and a true prayer warrior.

the second non-canonical book i was blessed to read was "Life of Brainerd", the journals of David Brainerd, as published by Jonathan Edwards, fine Godly reading.
