Hey guys/gals,

Just asking for prayer for a bible study my wife and I will be leading this upcoming Friday 3/30/12. A lot of couples are struggling in their marriages right now, and I want to believe God for some fresh revelations and bondage breaking in the ourselves and spouses.

Our last study we had just a half couple there, a man who showed up alone and confessed he was there alone because his wife wouldn't come due to marital difficulties. I don't think I need to tell anyone on this board how difficult marriage can be! Praise God he at least came!

Thanks for the prayers!

Not by power, nor by might :)

SR,

Praying for you, and I pray that the Lord will be the glue that helps to bind these people together in marriage! He has come through numerous times in my own life and He respects no person, so what He did for me He will do for others.

Much love!
