Brother Denny Kenaston Diagnosed with Brain Tumor - pray - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/4/11 14:12

Saints,

It was discovering today a 2 1/2 in brain tumor that is being biopsied at noon today. Please lift up Jackie and Denny Kenaston in your prayers that God would comfort them during this time. And that God would heal this for His glory.

Pray specifically against this if its the enemy's way to take out this precious man of God from service for Christ. I believe He still has a ministry to perform.

I will update this as I hear any updates for prayer.

I pray God will heal him. It grieves my heart to hear and see so many of God's servants experiencing diseases even to the point of dying. Dear Lord we need the fullness of the Holy Ghost like they experienced it in the early church and I am including myself also.

They had power to heal the sick and even raise the dead. Lord visit him mightily with your healing presence and let it be all for your glory!

Blessings...from brother rbanks

PRAYING.....

I heard his missionary children flew back from Africa yesterday.

Oh God, have mercy!

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/4/12 11:35

Continue to pray saints. Brother Denny has had a tremendous influence on my life as many others. Oh the God would allow this precious brother to be amongst us more to edify and build the kingdom of God.

Truly a precious brother. One of God's gentlemen.

Praying for mercy that meets us where we are and grace that lifts us into His perfect will.

This was posted Wednesday on a website for Denny. I still don't have any more recent update, but I'm hoping something was announced this Sunday, so perhaps an update will turn up soon. All I can say is KEEP PRAYING!!!

Biopsy Today. . .

Just wanted to give a brief update about the plans for my father. My mom and dad and brother-in-law Andrew had a consultation with the Dr yesterday afternoon. They were able to see the slide from the MRI for the first time. Mom said it was very sobering to see the 2 1/2 in. tumor on the screen. Because of the size of the tumor, it is important to go ahead with the biopsy. So, the biopsy has been scheduled for 12pm today. This is a totally new experience for my parents and of course a bit frightening. There are always risks involved when you disturb the brain and we would really appreciate your prayers for a smooth procedure. Pray for peace for all of us. Pray for a steady hand and lots of wisdom for the Drs.

Secondly, the children and I were able to change the tickets that we had for this summer. We are flying out of Abuja this evening and would appreciate your prayers for a non-eventful trip and 'angel dust' on the children during the long hours of travel. We arrive in Indianapolis tomorrow at 3pm. Daniel and Christy and family are also flying out of Ghana Friday night, arriving on Saturday. These long trips are never easy - especially when done at such short notice, but we are so grateful that the Lord has opened the doors for us to return and be with our parents during this time. Thanks so much for your continued prayers and support. The outpouring of love we sense from the many journal entries is a huge blessing and encouragement to our hearts! -Beka

Following is the link to Denny's CaringBridge website. You'll need a CaringBridge account, but it's really easy to make one. They've already made a number of updates, so you'll want to see it. (They don't know yet if the tumor is cancerous, though.)

BE INSTANT IN PRAYER...

Re: Brother Denny Kenaston Diagnosed with Brain Tumor - pray - posted by iceman9, on: 2012/4/17 12:00

Saints, keep praying for Brother Denny and his family.

They were in the process of building a new house.

Much of the decision making has come now to Jackie. Add to that the care and support Brother Denny needs.

The Kenaston family needs much prayer.

The biopsy results show stage 4 glioblastoma (cancerous) tumor. The dr. Said that the most advanced form of treatment will only give them a few months. You can read Rebekah Nolt's (Denny's daughter) account on CaringBridge. This dear family needs our prayer so much.

God knows what He's doing, but this is so hard for me to even write. Its comforting to know though that God can overco me any doctor's synopsis.... Oh God, make bare your mighty arm and heal your precious servant!

Still praying,
Alaina
