Saints,

These interviews made by Chapel of the Air are tremendous and well worth listening to. J. Edwin Orr experienced revival and studied it many years. Learn from his great wealth of experience in the Lord.

In this interview, Dr. Orr speaks on the misunderstanding of the word "revival". Among other things, he discusses how revival is primarily aimed at the Church, as opposed to the lost. This is the only time I have heard Dr. Orr talk about his multiple PhD's; surely because he is asked in the interview. This interview displays the typical humility of this extremely knowledgeable and well-traveled individual who, though he is surely one of the foremost scholars on the subject of historic revival, offers correction to the modern church, but does so in a way that it is evident he is not trying to glorify himself. The late Dr. Orr expresses his desire in this interview to see revival again, and puts forth his opinion that he does not believe that future revival is reserved for the nation of Israel only.
