George Bush is your hero huh

Well check out the site below.

So Question...Are you Praying for Your Leaders?, on: 2005/2/13 7:11

Just a question....Are You personally praying for your Leaders which includes the President? And why the anger inside of you? Who hurt you? What happened to cause this anger? You will only find freedom through forgiveness.

Re: So Question...Are you Praying for Your Leaders? - posted by AgesofWar (), on: 2005/2/13 13:11

Does God hate the Evil of this World?

I will answer your question:

Evil hurt me.

And I hate Evil.

I hate Evil with a fiery Hate, Evil TryÂ's to call The TRUE GOD of the Heavens Nothing. I hate all the pain that being apart from God Causes.

Do I pray for Mr. Bush...? Well to be honest NO.

Should I? Yes I should.

Should I call a Wolf a Sheep...? NO

Should I Warn my fellow Sheep.... Yes.

Should I upon discovering that Bush my old hero, likes to compromise with Satan, say nothing and be like "ohh well someone else will say something"

Or should I myself take the time to at least direct peeps to the web site that I visited, and then let them come back and talk about the info they read.

Do you hate evil and its many faces?

You say of course but do you really?

Does it make you angry?

Do you think I do not Love or Forgive that I somehow am an angry man lashing out at the World for some scar that has gone unattended 2?

No Jesus has closed the wound and is in fact is living in me.

I simply want you all to be aware of the hour in which we live...

I want to somehow express to you the depths at which evil have infiltrated the church and the nation of America and the World.

To somehow provoke you to take action and not put your hopes in any man, because if you check out the web site and actually read what I did and consider the implications... Well then you may no longer think me a hate monger but one who has been called to simply speak.

Careful...

This is not a bully pulpit.

The site your referred to has it's own inherent problems, it's been mentioned here before and why this is largely being ignored. What is the point?

Check your P.S. Brother

Ok your right... I re-read the Post it was kinda...umm.. it was harsh.

Love you guys cyas

PS. I edited out alot of stuff and the PS :-P

PPS. Whats wrong with the site? I would like to know if there is some problems reported on it.

Re: - posted by crsschk (), on: 2005/2/13 14:18

I understand brother,

There are a lot of things that can push our buttons and it's easy to forget that and start off on different tangents. As much as I grieve over the things being done by a 'ministry' such as the recent posting on one Mr.Hinn, even then I can sense a check in my spirit...It is certainly not all 'Kumbya' and warm fuzzies. I guess it's sometimes where we end up directing things, at the issue or at one another? Hope in all things it gives us pause to consider... I fail to do so often.

To that reference countering the site you mentioned, will have to do some digging, but in the mean time, here is some previous discussion;

(https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/newbb/viewtopic.php?mode=viewtopic&topic_id3328&forum35&start0&viewmode=flat&order0) President Bush's Faith?

Re: - posted by crsschk (), on: 2005/2/13 14:46

Not sure but it may be burried in this somewhere;

(https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/newbb/viewtopic.php?mode=viewtopic&topic_id2727&forum35&start50&viewmode=flat&order1) Article on President Bush

There was an awful lot of discussion around election time....politics..no wonder Jesus never bothered with it ;-)

Well, there was "Go tell that fox..."

Hi Michael.

I visited www.bushrevealed.com and www.repentamerica.com (their sponsors) after I read your post.

In my opinion, I see a lot of anger and hate in these websites. It is a lot of misrepresentation of the True Christianity. Lord Jesus never went around condemning sinners to hell. He only did that to the self righteous Pharisees. He brought forgiveness and expressed it in such a loving way. Remember the women caught in adultery. People were going to stone her and that is exactly what she deserved but what did our Lord Jesus do? How did He deal with this issue?

The reason I am saying this is because I used to be one of the worst kind of sinners and when I was living in sin, I knew what I was doing was wrong. No one needed to remind me. God already reminds me every time in my conscious.

When people constantly condemn others in the name of Christianity, people will automatically develop hatred towards us because everyone knows that it is impossible to live the life that is talked about in the bible. Only true Christians know this life is possible because we have the Holy Spirit living in us and teaching us these things. Unbelievers will never know these things unless God Himself tells them.

So, please my brother, let us instead reveal Jesus Christ to the world by the way we live and love each-other and not by speech alone.

Really these forums are not to bash or alert people to websites of questionable matter but to edify, encourage, uplift the body of Christ. I have to agree with Brother Arun that these 2 websites are quite harsh and some of the content is given in a wrong spirit blatantly. I don't mind your participation on the forums but I have seen that you are posting links to these sites quite a bit and would ask you to refrain from that. If you have come to SermonIndex to trumpet your own opinions then you have come to the wrong place. But rather if you have come here to want to know more about Jesus and know Jesus better then you have come to the right place. There are many audio sermon resources that will encourage and strengthen your walk with Christ.

If you have been around this site for awhile then you would know that there are many street preachers on this site but of the type that don't condemn or put down people. Brother Jesse Morrel (his sermons are on this site) is a great example of an open-air preacher who has an conviction and passion for souls similar to the old open air preachers from the past 1800's etc.

I encourage you to listen and watch and see what type of spirit of people are represented here before you trumpet your opinions.

Re: You want to Provoke Me to Action? Love to pray for ya, on: 2005/2/13 18:08

Reflections - a sharp tongue will he tame, a mind needing taming he will tame, a soft heart will he bring you to pray for others, a humble spirit he can use.

I just want you to know that sometimes my sharp typing brings out strong thoughts that are not my place to bring to someone....that is the job of the Holy Spirit in his timing.

When we tear at others to bring them down...that shows hurt and/or anger in one's heart that is personal and we are reaching out and taking it out on others. Even in correcting others we can be doing the same thing. We need to remember to correct our sons/daughters in love and everyone else in our life...dealing in love in all things. My previous message left was not one in total love....it had the sin of ego in it also....and it was wrong. I am sorry to all who had to read it and especially the one it was directed too. I should have prayed for you and left you in the hands of God. Forgive me please.

Reflections.
PJ

Re: - posted by crsschk (), on: 2005/2/13 19:15

PJ, you may want to re-read this again, what you wrote here. Just contemplate on it a bit.

Re: - posted by PreachParsly (), on: 2005/2/13 19:34

Come on guys examine yourself to see if you are in the faith. Let's not let this thread turn into a "flesh fest". Not to say any certain one of you is doing that but, It's just a general warning.

Re: - posted by AgesofWar (), on: 2005/2/14 0:07

I'll tell you what...

Yes Love, and Yes to Prayer.

But don't forget to Warn others and don't forget I warned You.

I won't put that site up on this site any longer.

I didn't hear one person say that the stuff written on those sites was false....Just mean or harsh.

Was Jesus harsh when he turned the tables over in the Temple, was he saying love the merchants in the Temple.

Well you can think whatever you want of me, but if what I said was true.... (All be it harsh), then who are saying is harsh? Me.. Ok fine me.

God yes God too is harsh and loving, Yes there is Justice here on Earth and there is Mercy.

Sinners have we forgotten the Wrath to come.

We sinners have forgotten the Wrath to come.

You're right however I should pray for the Bush's. But the point was to share with you all the state of the Age we live in.

Not one single letter of the Law will be stricken.

So much fluffy pillow preaching today not nearly enough conviction of sin. People fall away on account of no conviction of sin.

If I'm telling you the truth, then why would you say there is no room for it here?

No room for the truth huh... Oh well that's fine but your right, there is no room for the truth in the world, trying to wake up the sleepy is a hard job.

Wake up peeps, There is Wrath to come and we all will be accountable for what we have said and not said.

Im confident that what I have said is true and as for the sites I listed, I don't know of the content but it seems TRUE and yes HARSH. But True still.

Re: - posted by PreachParsly (), on: 2005/2/14 0:33

I'm reminded of a story I heard Wilkerson tell. (this may not be word for word but I am doing the best i can from memory) A young minister came to Wilkerson and asked him, "How do you preach the Holiness of God with love?" He replied "With tears and prayer." I believe the Justice of God has to be preached with a hot fervor... of love. No not this love that modern Christianity thinks of. Not this grace that lets you sin all you want to. There is a goodness and a severity of God. I honestly haven't looked at the websites much so maybe I shouldn't even comment, but just from reading some of the posts there are some tempers being flared. We cannot let human emotion drive us, but the Spirit of God. Truth sometimes is hard and seemingly very harsh. Jesus called some men children of the Devil, and vipers. He also forgave some that were in blatant sin ie the women caught in adultery. Those that were willing to humble themselves He forgave. Those that were prideful He rejects. The question to ask ourselves is are we prideful or humble? Even though we may be saying we are representing God are we full of self pride or humility?

Re: Warning - posted by crsschk (), on: 2005/2/14 0:56

I am not entirely sure just what is going on around here lately but there has been an influx of divisive posts that are out of line in their tenor.

Assumptions being made that are directed seemingly at members of this site...

Snide comments, a divisive spirit, pride, haughtiness. An unhealthy anger seems to be back of it. This is not going to continue here.

This forum has survived by being a place where these things are not tolerated. Many a good site has had to shut its own door to this type of mindset. Ray Comfort's forum comes to mind.

If you feel compelled to continue on with a mindset of tearing down your own brethren to get your particular point of view across you are in the wrong place.

Cannot stress enough the principle behind what the Lord said.

" Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of. "

This is a warning to those who wish to continue in this manner.

Matt. 24:4 And Jesus answered and said to them: "Take heed that no one deceives you. 5 For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will deceive many. 6 And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not troubled; for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. 7 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. And there will be famines, pestilences, and earthquakes in various places. 8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

And then:

12 And because lawlessness will abound, the love of many will grow cold.

How does the "Christian act today?" With much hate or with much longsuffering love?

Secondly, Scripture clearly teaches that those who rule can lead the people to ruin.

Isaiah 3:

12 As for My people, children are their oppressors,
And women rule over them.
O My people! Those who lead you cause you to err,
And destroy the way of your paths.Â”

Only the love of the truth will protect the believer in these last days.

Hello

Please read Isaiah 58-59

If it would please those who truly care Please to listen to a call to anguish by David Wilkerson and then hells best kept s ecret by Ray Comfort.

There has always been evil in this world, Let us Look to Jesus to Guide us in these Trials.

Don't fall away on account of Disagreement yet seeks the face of him and he will straiten our path.

Thank you.

Hello,

Let's put our differences aside and get to the meat of things.

We all know full well that the world is sinful.

We should all know that Jesus is the Answer.

We should all do what we can including prayer and action to do what we are personally called to do.

Lets use our gifts to bring the Gospel to the World.

Lets not disagree but agree that Jesus is the Way the Truth and the Life. The world does not know him but we do, so let us each in our own way, and with our own gifts proclaim the truth in our Age.

As for the Idea or debate over the President of the United States, well as Christians let us remember that our citizenship is one of the Heavens and our King is Jesus. Allegiance belongs to him and him alone.

Thank you

Get a passport and go to a foreign nation on a mission trip, it changes your perspective on things. Especially the way we view our own country. I know going up North and abroad certainly makes me appreciate the freedom I have in South Africa. Really is an open heaven in many respects, and God is doing amazing things in spite of what the government is doing.

Bush will be my hero when I took get a tax break...I still haven't gotten my $400 from last year...In all honesty rolling back taxes on the wealthiest in America only increases their wealth and the populus (you and I) gets poorer and poorer and if you look at what happened to all the great empires of the earth which fell (all of them) was the small number of people who had all the wealth and power vs the poor and pissed off populus...Right now the system in this country (it is quite in gineous I must say) is set up such that the populus has not time to really get involved in the political system in a way that makes things fair because we spend all our time working and paying bills and if we have a little money left over to go out and shop, we're happy and we don't think to go an further than that coz we have enough to handle already. Those who don't have so much drama in their lives can afford the luxery of voting or running for office or making their positions on certain issues known so that policies can be made that suit them.

Re: - posted by rookie (), on: 2005/2/15 11:30

Pride causes blindness in those who profess it. I believe that the wine spoken of in Revelation 17 speaks of the pride that blinds, the pride that causes men to stumble. If one were to compare our country, the U.S. with other industrial countries, we would find in many aspects that we are on the bottom of the lists. Crime, health care, abortion, pornography, education, are all areas where we, statistically are ranked well below other industrial countries.

One area we rank supreme, our budget for defense is larger than the next 14 countries combined. I believe the number is 14, correct me if I mispoke. What is the fruit of what we believe in as a nation?

In Christ
Jeff

Re: - posted by JoeFrank, on: 2005/2/15 11:36

Wrath

Yes I say Wrath must be the answer to a Nation that turns it's back on God's Mercy.

But remember Sodom and Gomorra, if there had been 10 good men it would have been spared.

Then again remember that none is good save GOD.

Food for thought.

Jeff,

I want you to know that I am "hearing ya" all around this forum- and I agree. :-)

You are "in the know" where most people think they know. much of this is kept hidden and will only be revealed to the pure in heart.
