What about those old "friends" who stay around to tempt you or drag you down?

All friendships made for selfish reasons before your conversion must go on the altar of sacrifice with all other things that belonged to your past life. All future friendships as well as those you keep from the past must be made or kept with the motive of WILLING their highest good in relation to their standing with God. Jesus said, "Strive to enter into the strait gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and MANY there be that go in that way; but strait is the gate and narrow is the way that leads to life; and FEW there be that find it" (Matthew 7:13-14; Luke 13:24). The way of the crowd is usually the WRONG way. If you would keep God's standards and favor, you had better face it - you are not going to keep many friends. The only ones left will be those you will have through eternity - those willing to totally sell out their lives to God.

If you are going to serve Christ, you will have to give up the "in" crowd. You are NOT a true Christian if you put pleasing people above Christ.

Many profess conversion or religion, when on a close look it will be seen that their leading object, prized beyond anything else, is the good opinion of the crowd. Sooner than lose this, they would deny their religious stand. Their whole "faith" is based on this. You can see by a close look at their lives that they will do nothing to lose this good opinion of men. They will not face the hatred, scorn, ridicule and unpopularity from unbelievers that must come if they really gave themselves up to root sin out of the world.

How can you tell a people-pleaser? If a man professes to love God and put Him first, yet makes the praise of men his idol, how can you tell? Test your own character by these signs if you hope you do not belong in this class of counterfeit converts ...

1. They do what Paul says - "measure themselves among themselves ... (2 Corinthians 10: 12) and for this reason do not find true faith.

There are a vast many people who, instead of making Jesus Christ their standard and the Bible their rule of life, obviously aim at no such thing. The great question they ask is - "Do I do as much in religion and be as good as others in the crowd or church around me?" Their aim is to keep up a respectable religious front for others. Instead of seriously asking for themselves what the Lord and His Word requires, they look simply at the common run of professing church people and copy them. They do that which is outwardly respectable, not primarily that which is right (Psalm 36:1-2; Proverbs 12:15; 16:2; 30:12; Ecclesiastes 11:9; Judges 17:6; Matthew 6:1-7; 16-18).

2. A people-pleaser never bothers to raise the standards of right around him.

They are not bothered that the general standard of piety is so low in the church that a visiting early church Christian would have to backslide to be in fellowship! People-pleasers like the "present" standard, because they have conformed their religious reputation around it. If the real friend of God and man tries to wake up the church and raise the tone of faith, he seems critical and meddling to the people-pleasers (Matthew 25; Mark 6:1-3; Acts 5; Jeremiah 14:10-14).

When Jesus denounced the church leaders of His day, they said "He has a devil!" He dared say that unless a man's righteousness exceeded theirs they would not make it (Matthew 5:20). A large part of today's church people have the same attitude as the scribes and pharisees, and the same destiny.

Every effort to open their eyes to make them see they are living lives so low, so wordly, so phony that God is grieved terribly, only excites ill-will from them. They forget how Jesus said His strongest words of judgment to those who had a reputation of being the most pious people of His day. It was their hypocritical spirit that roused His soul. He saw through their fake fronts of piety, called them hypocrites and thundered over their heads the terrible words - "How can you escape the damnation of Hell!" No wonder there is excitement when the truth is told, when so many love the praise of men more than the praise of God. They do not seem to know that the lives of so many professing Christians are almost as different from God's standards as light is from dark (Leviticus 11:44; Psalm 24:3-4; Jeremiah 23:9-22; 26:10-15; Romans 6; 1 Thessalonians 4:3-7; Hebrews 12:14; 1 John 3:3-10; 5:18).

3. They often oppose men and measures and efforts to wake the church as long as they are unpopular but if they become popular, fall in with them.

The opposite is also true; if the work becomes unpopular they will turn against it (Matthew 3:7-10; Mark 6:14, 17, 20, 22, 26; Luke 13:23-27; John 6:60-66; 7:10-13; Acts 6:8-13). Let a man of God begin to wake up churches to true faith. While he is little known, the people-pleasers are not backward to speak against him. But let him go on and gain influence and they will profess to be his warmest friends (Luke 9:7-9; John 2:23-25).

This class of person stands with the crowd when it condemns a man, and turn the other way when he is honored. There is only one exception. That is, when they have become so far committed to the opposition that they cannot change without disgrace. And then they will be silent, until another chance comes up for letting out the smouldering fires that are burning within them (Matthew 22:15, 22, 24, 46; Luke 11:27-28; Acts 5:17-33).

They never aim at forming a public sentiment in favor - of godliness. They always follow the crowd as it is, and feeling after the tide, go that way, shrinking back from everything that goes in the face of public sentiment (Jeremiah 42:16 cf. 43:1-7; Luke 14:25; John 9:18-25; Acts 24:24).

4. People-pleasers separate God's requirements strongly enforced by public feeling and those that are not - they do the first to please men and break the rest as it suits them.

A people-pleaser is very careful to stay away from sins forbidden by public opinion, but does other things not frowned on that are just as bad. He will never miss public worship - oh no! - because he could never hold a reputation for religion if he did . . . but neglects other things plainly required in the Word of God. When someone HABITUALLY DISOBEYS any known law of God, the obedience he seems to have to other laws is not from a true love for God, but from selfish motives (Luke 16:10; 1 John 3:3-6; John 14:21). He does not, in fact, obey ANY command of God (James 2: 10). Obedience to God implies an obedient state of heart, and therefore nothing is obedience that does not imply a supreme regard to God's authority.

Now, if a man's heart be right, whatever God requires he regards of more importance than anything else (Matthew 6:33; 22:36-40; 10:37-39). If he regards anything else of greater importance, THAT is HIS GOD. Whatever we supremely regard - that is our god; if it is power, or riches, comfort or pleasure, honor or power, that is the god of our hearts. If it is Jesus, that man is a true Christian; if it is anything else, whatever his reason, this is his true god; and all his religion is selfish. He is a counterfeit convert (Deuteronomy 6:5; Luke 16: 10-15; Matthew 6:24; John 8:34-36).

How is it with you, friend? Do you habitually neglect any command of God because it is not sustained and enforced by public opinion? If you profess to be a true Christian, you probably do not neglect anything strongly urged by public sentiment. But how is it with others? Do you habitually practice some things acceptable among men that you know to be contrary to the law of God? If you do, write down your name people-pleaser" (Luke 18:9-14).

5. They are apt to sin away from home when they would not if they were with others they know.

Many a man who is outwardly very religious and respectable in his own community drops his mask at a distance and begins to act like he has always lived inside. If he is fairly sure no one knows him there, he will sin. If he is a religious man in church, away from church company he is ready to "let his horns grow-." The true Christian in love with God, does not lead a double life. The things that make him happy in church are the same things that make him happy a thousand miles from it (Jeremiah 23:24; Matthew 15:8; Titus 1: 16; 2:7-15; James 2:9; 1 John 2:3-6,23).

A people-pleaser also often indulges in secret sin. I am now speaking of something by which you may know yourselves. If you allow yourself ANY sin secretly, when you know how to get out of it; but you can "get along" without any human being knowing it, know that GOD sees it, and He has already written down your name, hypocrite! You are more afraid of disgrace in the eyes of men than disgrace in the eyes of God. If you love God as you claim to, and were tempted to do such a thing, you as a true Christian would react like Joseph - "How can I do this wicked thing and sin against GOD?" (Genesis 39:7-9; Ezekiel 8:12; Job 31:33-34; Romans 2:16-29; 2 Timothy 2:19).

They may not secretly sin, but secretly neglect duties that if known would bring them shame. Things like Bible study and secret prayer for instance. They will appear very pious at church, but in the privacy of their own rooms, live different lives. How is it with you? Do you habitually and secretly omit some things, knowing how and why you should do them, and yet are careful to perform all your public duties? Need it be said that you "love the praise of men more than the praise of God?"

6. People-pleasers dread the thought of being called 'fanatical'.

They miss a first principle of Scripture - That ALL THE WORLD is wrong! The world's feelings are all against God, and every one who intends to serve God must from the start oppose its opinions. It is true and always has been, that "they that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecutions." They shall be called "fanatical," "extreme," and the like. They have always been, and always will be, as long as the world is wrong (Matthew 5:11-12; John 15:18-25; Acts 14:22; 21:27-31; 26:24-29). But people-pleasers never go further than people's opinions. They say they "must" do this to influence such men. Right against this is the purpose of God's true children. Their leading aim is to reverse the world's order and turn the world upside down, to bring all men to obey God and all the opinions of men to conform to the Word of God (Acts 2:37-40; 17:6; Luke 12:49; Matthew 3:1-3; 4:16-17; John 8:44-50; 12:37-43).

7. They are very intent on making friends on both sides of the line.

They always make compromises and concessions to the crowd. They try to take both sides. It has always been so for centuries, that men could make a good show of religion without ever being labeled as "holy." The standard is still so low that at a great mass of churches still try not to be set down as "reprobates" on one hand or "fanatics" on the other. They are "fashionable Christians!"

Their style of religion is fashionable and popular and they generally follow the world's fashions in dress and custom. No matter what GOD requires, they are carefully determined not to offend His enemies. If they are ever faced with a choice between displeasing their crowd or God, they will offend God (Proverbs 4:14; Exodus 23:2; Matthew 14:1-10; 21:23-27; Luke 12:51-53; John 15:14; Romans 12:2; James 4:4).

8. They will do more to gain the applause of men than the applause of Heaven.

They are more anxious to know what men think about them than about what God thinks. If such a one is a minister preaching a sermon, or a singer giving a song, they fish for compliments, more interested to know what men thought of it than what God thought of it. If an elder or church member prays or speaks in a meeting, he is thinking, if he is a people pleaser, how he sounds to those who listen (Matthew 15:7-8; 23:14; Jude 16; James 2:1-4). If he makes anything like a failure, the disgrace of men cuts him ten times more than the thought that he has let God down or hindered others (1 Corinthians 7:23; Ephesians 6:6; Colossians 3:22-23).

Females of this kind are vastly more concerned in church how they look in the eyes of men than how they look in God's eyes. You can see at a glance what this religion is, the moment it is held up to view. No one is at loss to say what that man or woman's name is - it is hypocrite. They go into God's house with hearts as dark as midnight, while everything on the outside is respectable and decent (1 Samuel 16:7; Matthew 23:5-7; 23:28; 1 Peter 3:3; 2 Corinthians 5:12).

9. They are often ashamed to do what they should; so much ashamed they will not do it!

When a person is so much ashamed, it is plain that his reputation is his God. How many people-pleasers do you know now? They are ashamed to acknowledge Jesus Christ, ashamed to reprove sin in high and low places, ashamed to speak out when Christianity is assailed! If they really loved God, how could they be? If a man really loved a girl, would he be ashamed to defend her if she was slandered? If a man's children were abused, would he be ashamed to stand up for them? Not if he loved them (Joel 2:26-27; Jeremiah 17:13; Mark 8:38; Romans 1:16; 9:33; 10:11; 2 Timothy 1:12; Philippians 1:20; Hebrews 2:11; 1 John 2:28). The people pleaser does not really love GOD; he loves himself and his reputation among others. When among church people he is very bold for the truth and makes a great show of his faith. But put him among Christ's enemies, where it would be a reproach to be called a Christian; put him to trial and he will sell Christ out like Judas or deny Him before His enemies (Matthew 10:32-33; 26:47-50; Mark 4:16-17; Luke 9:26; 12:9; John 1:20; 9:22; 12:42; Acts 3:13).

There is a great deal more apparent piety in the church than true piety. There are many things which sinners suppose are good which are abominable in the eyes of God. It is easy for people to take credit for people-pleasing lives and make themselves believe they are models of piety, when in fact they are only examples of hypocrisy.

But for the love of reputation and fear of disgrace, how many in the church would break out in open apostasy? All that holds them back from open sin is public opinion, fear of disgrace and desire to gain credit for virtue. When a person is good from a regard to God's authority, whether public sentiment favors or frowns upon it - that is true faith (John 8:28-29; Acts 5:40-42). If otherwise, they have their reward. They do it for the sake of gaining credit in the eyes of men, and they gain it. But if they expect any favor in the hands of God they will assuredly be disappointed (Ezekiel 14:6-8; John 7:3-7).

Who will agree to take the Bible for your rule and Jesus Christ for your pattern, doing what is right in all cases, whatever man may say or think? If you are not willing to take this stand, you are a stranger to the grace of God. A people-pleaser is by no means His child. If you are not resolved upon doing what is right, public sentiment or not, you love the praise of men more than the praise of God.

Friend, I have been honest with you. If I did not really love you or care, I would not have risked your censure. I have told it like it is. If you mean to be a Christian you must give yourself wholly up to Christ. You cannot float along to Heaven on the waves of public sentiment. I will not pretend you can when God says you cannot (Luke 14:25-27; 1 Thessalonians 2:3-6).

The Lord Jesus said - "Whosoever will be ashamed of Me and of My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of Man be ashamed when He comes in the Glory of His Father and with the Holy angels . . . Whosoever shall confess Me before man, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the angels of God; but he that denies Me before man shall be denied before the angels of God." Did Jesus mean it? (Mark 8:38; Luke 12:8-9).

"Wherefore come out from among them, and be a separate people . . . and I will receive you saith the Lord . . . and will be a Father to you, and you shall be My sons and daughters" (2 Corinthians 6:17-18). And now, will you do it? Who is on the Lord's side? Who is willing to say - "we will no longer follow a multitude to do evil, but are determined to do the will of God in all things no matter what the world thinks or says about us"? (John 12:24-26).

"Search the Scriptures; for in them you think you have eternal life; and they are they which testify of Me . . . I RECEIVE NOT HONOR FROM MEN . . . how CAN you believe, which receive honor one of another, and seek not the honor that comes from GOD ONLY?" (John 5:39, 41, 44).

It's dawned on me this morning that I've spent my whole adult life trying to please people, trying to be a success by their standards. I've done the same thing as a believer for over 24 years now. I've strived to become a successful "christian" by the standards of my own church group. That's the most miserable life a person can live folks. In the end, I'm a success when I learn to see myself, & my potential through God's eyes & strive to live up to that potential God alone can see in me. If I'm going to help you, then I need to strive to see you through God's eyes as well. That's the source of everything I see wrong with the church world today. We, the leaders in the body of Christ are striving to build an army of "clones", fashioned in our own image, or the image of whoever our "hero" of the moment may be. Each of us is a unique individual, & God will never strive to destroy that individuality. Men will. God's goal in your life is to help you to become the very best "you" that "you" can be. My goal as a believer should then be to get to know you as you really are & also encourage that individuality. When I get bent out of shape with you, most of the time it's because you're not living up to my own self imposed standards for you. First, I need to see myself through God's eyes, & then I need to strive to see you through His eyes as well. May God fill our hearts & lives with His light; cause us to see them as He sees them, give us wisdom showing us how to live up to that potential, & give us the power to overcome every obstacle that stands in the way.

That's why we need to be drunk...in the Spirit that is.

Re: I was praying a while back...., on: 2005/2/19 15:48

...and I said Lord, I want to be all I can be in You. He said, "rather My son, I want to be all I can be in YOU!" Selah (Pause and think of that) God wants to be all He can be in each of us, and He will, if only we submit ourselves to that necessary death of self and self adulation. Oh God help me with the moat in my eye!
