God once showed me that His truth is like a giant jigsaw puzzle having 5000 pieces. In His infinite wisdom, God gave one piece of the puzzle to 500 individual believers; His purpose being that they'd be dependent on one another to understand the whole picture. However, each of these believers laid his or her piece of the puzzle next to a canvas & painted a whole picture around that one piece of the puzzle. The end result? 5000 pictures looking nothing like the original.
