"O believer, learn to reject pride, seeing that you have no ground for it. Whatever you are, you have nothing to make you proud. The more you have, the more you are in debt to God; and you should not be proud of that which renders you a debtor." -C. H. Spurgeon

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/10/26 16:29

Persecution has never hurt the church. Only prosperity. ~Paul Washer

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/10/26 16:29

You mark my words, and it won't be long when persecution begins in this country, and it strips everything from you, and most of the evangelical church goes totally apostate, and little groups are left to be berated, THEN you will see that Christ is enough. ~Paul Washer

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/10/26 16:29

I don't want revival. I WANT CHRIST! And if we have Christ, there will be a revival. ~Paul Washer

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/10/29 21:32

"The church has lost her testimony. She has no longer anything to say to the world. Her once robust shout of assurance has faded away to an apologetic whisper. She who one time went out to declare now goes out to inquire. Her dogmatic declaration has become a respectful suggestion, a word of religious advice, given with the understanding that it is after all only an opinion and not meant to sound bigoted." - A.W. Tozer

"churches are more prosperous than at any time within the past several hundred years. But the alarming thing is that our gains are mostly external and our losses wholly internal; and since it is the quality of our religion that is affected by internal conditions, it may be that our supposed gains are but losses spread over a wider field." - A.W. Tozer

"I believe, O sovereign Goodness, O mighty Wisdom, that thou dost sweetly order and govern all things, even the most minute, even the most noxious, to thy glory, and the good of those that love thee. I believe, O Father of the families of heaven and earth, that thou so disposest all events, as may best magnify thy goodness to all thy children, especially those whose eyes wait upon thee. I most humbly beseech thee, teach me to adore all thy ways, though I cannot comprehend them; teach me to be glad that thou art king, and to give thee thanks for all things that befall me; seeing thou hast chosen that for me, and hast thereby set to thy seal that they are good. And for that which is to come, give me thy grace to do in all things what pleaseth thee; and then, with an absolute submission to thy wisdom, to leave the issues of them in thy hand."

John Wesley (1703–1791)

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/11/11 17:08

"I pray God, for the sake of Christ...to receive me now as entirely his own, and to deal with me, in all respects, as such, whether he afflicts me or prospers me, or whatever he pleases to do with me, who am his. Now, henceforth, I am not to act, in any respect, as my own—I shall act as my own, if I ever make use of any of my powers to any thing that is not to the glory of God, and do not make the glorifying of him my whole and entire business."

Jonathan Edwards (1703–1758)

Let me persuade you to believe, that the gospel is not entailed upon England. England hath no letters patent of the gospel, the gospel is removable. God took away the ark and forsook Shiloh, and He did not only take away the ark, but the temple also. He unchurched the Jews, He unchurched the seven churches of Asia, and we know not how soon He may unchurch us.

I know no warrant we have to think that we shall have the gospel another hundred years. God removed His church out of the east, as the Greek churches were famous churches, but God removed them, and now the Turks overspreads the country.

Edmund Calamy

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/12/20 23:16

The Church of Christ is literally filled with carnal, earthly-minded Christians who sit back in ease and self-complacency and await a rapture that will translate them out of the midst of earth's Great Tribulation at the beginning of the Day of the Lord. To this generation of world-conformers God speaks in no uncertain terms: "Woe unto you that desire the day of the Lord! to what end is it for you? the day of the Lord is darkness, and not light." (Amos 5:18). In the vast majority of evangelical circles we are taught that any moment all God's people shall be caught up, raptured, to be with the Lord in the air—to escape the Great Tribulation which soon shall visit the earth. It is not true. The saints shall be "caught up" all right; but "every man in his own order." (1 Cor. 15:23). What that order is does not concern us right now; but the fact remains, we are nowhere taught that the saints are going to escape the hour of Great Tribulation by way of rapture. "... Sudden cataclysmic judgments shall fall upon the earth, the ungodly shall be "taken" suddenly as in a "snare," but the righteous shall be "left" in a place of safety. (From Chapter 6, The Blowing of Trumpets) - George Warnock

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2013/1/8 15:05

"Oh, that God would humble me deeply in the dust before Him! I deserve hell every day for not loving my Lord more, who has, I trust, loved me and given Himself for me. Every time I am enabled to exercise any grace renewedly, I am renewedly indebted to the God of all grace for special assistance. Where then is boasting? Surely it is excluded when we think how we are dependent on God for the being and every act of grace. Oh, if ever I get to heaven it will be because God wills, and nothing else; for I never did anything of myself but get away from God!" ~ David Brainerd

"All great revivals came in the midst of apostasy. Judgment is rushing on to a climax. But God's program is also rushing to a climax—and nothing will answer the spiritual needs of this hour except the supernatural power of God. There is every evidence in God's Word, and in His working today, that the hour is at hand for the outpouring of the Spirit and God's consummation of the age!" - W.C. Moore (1950)

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2013/1/17 22:53

"The majority of what calls itself Christianity today is a circus. You've got a bunch of people chasing health, wealth, prosperity; chasing a good time, chasing the social club, chasing where the action's happening, chasing the good music and the good times. But few people are out there chasing God, and truly going hard after Him, and truly making the sacrifices in their life and cleaning their hands in such a way and working to have a pure heart that they might actually ascend the hill of the Lord and they might actually commune with God in a way that few people do and few people know about." - Tim Conway

When men speak about someone is a humble man, that means he behaves in a humble way towards people. That is the only humility that human beings can talk about. But when God talks about humility in the New Testament, that is not humility before men, that is secondary.

God speaks primarily about obedience to God.

In the secret areas of our life. If I seek to keep my thought life pure before God, that shows I am humble, if I am careless about my thought life, that shows I am proud. This is the connection between dirty thoughts and pride. But true humility is obedience to God. Of Jesus it is said, "He humbled himself by becoming obedient to death, even death on a cross..." Perhaps if there were more of that intense distress for souls that leads to tears, we should more frequently see the result s we desire. Sometimes it may be that while we are complaining of the hardness of the hearts of those we are seeking t o benefit, the hardness of our own hearts and our feeble apprehension of the solemn reality of eternal things may be the true cause of our want of success.

Does God care more about how much we know or about how much we obey what we know? In the West we are prone t o think that the acquisition of knowledge of Scripture is equivalent to maturity in Christ. We spend our time listening to se rmons, going to Bible studies and even attending Bible school and seminary— all in the pursuit of knowledge. After gain ing all of this knowledge, how much of it is actually applied in obedience? It is not what we know but what we obey what we know that will change our lives and transform the lives of others.

Prayer -secret, fervent, believing prayer- lies at the root of all personal godliness. A competent knowledge of the language where a missionary lives, a mild and winning temper, a heart given up to God in closet religion— these, these are the attainments which, more than all knowledge, or all other gifts, will fit us to become the instruments of God in the great work of human redemption. Hebrews 12:27; Galatians 4:9; John 8:58; John 10:34-36; Galatians 3:16. If these passages are examined it will be seen that in the first instance the argument turns on one phrase, 'yet once more.' In the second, on the passive voice rather than the active voice of the verb. In the third, on the present rather than on the past tense. In the fourth, on the inviolability of a single word; and in the fifth, on the retention of the singular number of a noun, rather than the plural. Taking the five passages together, they teach us that, to alter or omit a phrase, change the voice or mood or tense of a verb, change a single word or even the number of a noun, is to break the Scriptures; and if this does not come close to verbal inspiration, then I am no judge." - W.
