Good News SermonIndex.net Working again with Google - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2012/10/24 16:14

Dear Saints,

thank you for all your prayers and suggestions. I have made dozens and dozens of changes and it seems something works and the site is re-listed with google and already some of the results even seem better! So the Lord perhaps is working this out for the good in a much better way. Praise the Lord.

Still any brothers who link to sermonindex.net from their blogs, websites will help the search engine rankings greatly. So if you have been blessed by this ministry adding a link on your site will do tremendous good!

We also have seen many more changes for the site to be made in the near future from this time of analyzing potential problems so we are thankful for this also.
